PLENTY OF NEWS.

A Chinaman Goes out Gunning.

A WOMAN THROWS AN OFFICER.

A Burglar's Sentence—The National Guard Goes into Camp—Arrest of a Surgeon.

About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a Chinaman named Lee Took shot at and wounded two others of his own race in New Chinatown. One of them, Ah Hung, is seriously hurt, a bullet having lodged in his back about the region of the right kidney, and grave doubts are entertained for his recovery. Ah Yick, the other, was more fortunate, as he was merely shot through the left hand.

As far as could be ascertained, the affair grew out of an old grudge nursed by the respective parties for some time past. Matters came to a crisis between them about three days ago, when Lee Took learned that his two enemies were determined to do him some injury. He applied to the Chief of Police for protection, and Officer M. T. Bowler was detailed to investigate the matter and, if necessary, to arrest the two heathens who had threatened him. Although the officer walked round Chinatown for several hours with his informant, who had promised to point his enemies out, no trace of them could be found, and the matter was forgotten.

Yesterday afternoon the three men met in a shanty on Apablassa street, near Alameda, and an altercation ensused. Ah Hung and Ah Yick, who were unarmed, jumped upon Lee Took, and a desperate struggle took place. Finally the last named broke loose from his assailants and drawing a 38-calibre British bulldog revolver, emptied the contents of its five chambers at his opponents. Ah Hing was shot in the back, and Ah Yick in the hand. The would-be assassin then made a break for the door, and slipping the pistol back into his overalls, dashed down the street. A number of people had been attracted by the reports of the five shots and amongst them was a youth named Apablassa. Seeing the heathen leave the house, he rushed up and grabbed him, and at this juncture Officer Walsh put in an appearance, and placed the Chinaman under arrest. The patrol wagon was telephoned for, and all three heathens were conveyed to the station. While the officer was waiting for the wagon, an immense crowd of jabbering Chinamen, several hundred in number, surrounded him and requested him to release his prisoner. No attempt was made to use force, and though the prisoner fought desperately for his liberty, the big policeman held to him until the wagon arrived.

At the City Jail Dr. Wing attended the sufferers, while the prisoner was being searched and thrown into a cell. The Police Surgeon dressed the wounds of both the victims and both were held as witnesses. Their friends came in droves to the station during the evening and demanded that they be released so that a "China doctor" could attend to them, but the Chief determined to detain them on the ground that were they released the friends of the prisoner, who are in the majority, might "spirit" them away, so as to destroy all chances of his prosecution.

Owing to the reticence of the Chinese who saw or knew of the affair, but little could be learned of its real significance. In nine out of every ten cases of this sort the real truth never appears upon the surface.

DOWNED THE OFFICER.

A Female Disturber of the Peace Resists Arrest.

Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock Mrs. Carr, a middle-aged woman who resides at No. 8 Rose street, was arrested by Officer Rich on a warrant charging her with disturbing the peace. She was accused by Thomas McCarthy, a detective formerly in the employ of the city, and a fellow-lodger in the house, of using abusive language to him in the hearing of his wife, about an hour earlier in the day. When the officer called at the house he was referred to the woman herself, who occupied a room upstairs. In response to his knock he was invited to enter, and on doing so made known his business and read the warrant. His prisoner, however, was sufficiently under the influence of liquor to be ugly; and when he proceeded to put the document into execution, by placing her under arrest, she absolutely refused to accompany him. He endeavored to use a little forcible persuasion, but as she was considerably heavier and stronger than the policeman, this proved to be a somewhat larger contract than he had calculated on. During the struggle which ensued she threw him down and threatened all sorts of impossible things. Fortunately her married daughter was present, or she might have put some of them into execution. Finally the policeman escaped from her clutches and with considerable difficulty got the upper hand over her, and after a while she was induced to get into the patrol wagon and was driven to the station. There she again made a fuss, but was promptly placed in a cell and locked up to await trial on Monday.

TWENTY YEARS.

Sentence of Harry Jordan, a Brutal Burglar.

Yesterday morning Harry Jordan, one of the two men who burglarized the residence of Mrs. Harriet Cuddeback on the night of the 25th day of June last, appeared before Judge W. A. Cheney in Department One and entered his plea of guilty to the charges of robbery and burglary pending against him. At the request of the prosecution, Mrs. Cuddeback was sworn and asked to relate the circumstances surrounding the case.

She stated that on the night of the 25th of June she was alone at her residence, on the corner of San Pedro street and Montague avenue, and retired as usual, in apparent security, after locking the doors and fastening the windows. During the night, however, two men, Jordan and an accomplice named Brady, entered the house by the kitchen window in the rear, and, unheard by the mistress of the house, who is 60 years of age, went through the place and secured everything of value. About 8:30 o'clock next morning she arose, and wholly unsuspicious of danger, while still en deshabille opened her bedroom door to walk across the hall. As she emerged from the room both men, who had evidently waited for her appearance, jumped at her and throwing a comforter over her head, forced her to the floor. They then tied her ankles with baling rope, and as she struggled desperately for liberty, also tied her wrists together with an old pair of suspenders. After dragging her to the other end of the hall, one of them to quiet her struggles sat upon her, while the other choked her. Seeing that she still resisted and tried to get loose, they gagged her and tied her to the bannister at the foot of the stairs. Jordan then drew a razor and threatened to cut her throat if she made any noise. Her diamond earrings were torn forcibly from her ears, and after kicking her in various parts of the body, the miscreants left her half dead with fear and suffering. Finally, however, by great effort she managed to remove the gag, and giving vent to one long ear-piercing scream, became unconscious.

The rest of the story was told by Mrs. M. E. Watson, of the Girls' Home, who was at the time living close by. She testified to hearing a scream, which emanated from Mrs. Cuddeback's residence. At her instigation a man named Rammelsberger went over to investigate, and on trying the door he was surprised to find that someone was inside resisting his efforts to push it open. After a short deliberation the burglars determined to put a bold face on the matter, as there was only one man outside, and flinging open the door, one of them said: "Well, as this job is done, we may as well go somewhere else." Rammelsberger was easily deceived by their apparent unconcern, and did not intercept either of them as they came out and walked past him. He entered the house, however, to assure himself that all was right, and found Mrs. Cuddeback insensible upon the floor. An alarm was raised and the Sheriff notified of the affair, and both men were subsequently captured.

At the close of this testimony the defendant's attorney made an appeal to the Court for leniency on the ground that the property stolen had been restored. The Judge, however, delivered a most scathing address to the prisoner on the dastardly nature of his crime, and sentenced him to imprisonment in Folsom penitentiary for twenty years.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

The Boys Leave for Their Camp at Pacific Beach.

The usual scenes about the Santa Fe Depot were especially enlivened yesterday morning by the departure of the First Brigade for Pacific Beach. General Johnson and staff drove down in carriages, and the three companies stationed in this city marched from their armory to the depot, where a special train awaited them. The boys were all attired in uniform, and made a very imposing showing. At the depot they were joined by the companies from San Bernardino and Pomona, and later on, at Anaheim, the party received the addition of the company located there.

Captain Bailey, who was detailed by General Grierson to superintend the proceedings of the encampment, took his place, with General Johnson and staff, in the headquarters car. In this car were also a number of ladies, among whom were Mrs. E. P. Johnson, Miss S. and Miss Gertie Johnson, Mrs. J. N. Rice, Mrs. E. Woy, Mrs. L. D. Connor, Mrs. L. C. Allen, Mrs. E. R. Zombro, Mrs. H. I. Drew, Mrs. G. Wiley Wells, Mrs. A. W. Barrett, Mrs. L. B. Butler, Mrs. G. J. Scarborough, Mrs. Pendleton, Mrs. C. Collins, Miss Hettie Collins, Mrs. M. H. Colmery, Rev. D. R. Colmery. A number of other ladies accompanied their husbands to camp.

The special, which pulled out at 10 a. m., was made up of a baggage car and eight passenger coaches. Mr. Williamson Dunn and Chief Clerk Kyes of the Santa Fe were on hand and looked to the arrangements for the comfort of the boys, who started on their journey amid the cheers and well wishes of their friends.

A daily paper will be issued in the camp to record the events and the gossip which may be current. There is every prospect that the encampment will be a great success both in the work which the regiment will accomplish and the enjoyment which the boys will experience.

A QUEER SURGEON.

He is Charged with Practicing Without a License.

E. T. Barber, an alleged physician and surgeon, was arrested yesterday upon a warrant charging him with practicing medicine and surgery without filing a certificate with the County Clerk authorizing him so to do. He was taken before Township Justice Savage for arraignment and his examination set for August 17th, bail being required in the interim in the sum of $100. The complaint, which is sworn to by H. R. Norcross, of Inglewood, alleges that Barber practiced surgery and medicine, on or about December 1, 1888, at Lancaster, although he had not filed a certificate of either the Medical Society of the State of California, the Eclectic Medical Society of California, or the California Homœopathic Medical Society, with the County Clerk, as required by law.

This prosecution is said to be based upon an alleged maltreatment of the complainant's wife last winter. Mrs. Christina Norcross, who was then residing at or near Lancaster, had the misfortune to break an arm and Dr. Baker was called upon to treat the injured limb. He tried to set the broken bones and charged $50 for his services; but instead of becoming knitted together, the broken bones were allowed to grow apart and the arm is now useless. On consulting a surgeon in this city he at once pronounced the treatment as unprofessional and it was found necessary to rebreak the arm before setting it properly.

Amusements.

This week at the Grand Charles McCarthy in One of the Bravest will appear. It is a drama of the times of thrilling interest and superbly set. A real fire engine will be one of the realistic features of the piece.

At the People's Theater the attraction this week will be Boucicault's most powerful play The Long Strike. It will be put on with special settings.

AN OLD STAGER.

Sam Washburn Takes His Own Life.

A MOST DETERMINED SUICIDE.

His Previous Effort at Santa Barbara—Ill Health and Discouragement the Cause.

Coroner Meredith held an inquest yesterday evening upon the body of Samuel Washburn, an old man about 60 years of age, who committed suicide yesterday morning by taking morphine. About 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon Washburn applied at August Volkel's lodging house at 150½ Alameda street, for a room, and one was assigned to him, for which he paid. Excusing himself upon the plea that he was tired, he went to bed, and as he had not vacated the room at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, the proprietor of the place became uneasy. After knocking on the door without receiving any response, he forced an entrance to the room, and found his lodger stretched upon the bed.

He presented a shocking appearance, being black in the face and unable to speak; he had evidently suffered unspeakable agonies of torture. It was impossible to tell how long he had been in that condition, as he had apparently not undressed on retiring. Volkel shook the sufferer several times, but his efforts to revive him only elicited a groan. On looking around the room a small paper box labeled "morphine" was found, whereupon the lodging-house keeper notified Officer N. B. Appel, who was stationed at the Commercial street depot. The patrol wagon was sent for, and Washburn conveyed in it to the City Jail, where Dr. Morrison worked upon him for some time. His efforts were ineffectual, however, for the suicide died about 2 o'clock, p. m.

The jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts as stated above.

The deceased was well known in this city and Santa Barbara, especially among the older residents, as he was one of the old time stage drivers who thirty years ago drove the only means of transport between this city and the outside world.

While engaged in this occupation Sam was attacked by inflammatory rheumatism, brought on by the exposure he endured. For the past fifteen years he has been crippled in all his limbs, and has suffered intensely. On recovering from his first serious illness he found that he was disabled from following his former profession, and opened a saloon at Santa Barbara. The temptations offered by this business, however, proved too strong for him, and he engaged in the wildest dissipations, until his old enemy once more attacked him. Since that time he has divided his time between sickness and dissipation, and a few weeks ago he developed signs of suicidal mania.

His first attempt was made on the road between Los Olivos and Santa Barbara about a month ago. He was seated on the box of a stage coach, driven by his old comrade Bee Wheelis, who noticed that he was very despondent. On reaching a point where the road leads along the edge of a precipice, Wheelis naturally gave all his attention to his team; but Sam, watching his opportunity, waited until the steepest place was reached, and flung himself headlong from the coach and disappeared over the edge of the abyss. As soon as practicable the stage was brought to a standstill, and ropes being procured, Wheelis went down for his old friend. At a distance of 300 feet below the roadway, Sam's body was found, upheld by a bush which jutted out from the rocks. He was hauled up and driven to Santa Barbara, where medical aid was summoned. It was found that in a miraculous way he had escaped injury, not a single bone being broken; and next day he was about again as usual. A short time afterwards he came down here, and it is supposed that he was driven to suicide by physical suffering.

SANTA MONICA COAL.

Some More Samples at the Board of Trade.

Another coal man from Santa Monica put in an appearance at the Board of Trade rooms the other day with some specimens of bituminous coal obtained on the property of Senator Jones. The specimens which he has were obtained under a stream of flowing water, and are decomposed, but nevertheless show indications of a good deposit somewhere in the vicinity.

The specimens which were sent up from the other claim referred to in the HERALD a few days ago are some of them coal and some of them mere stone with a veneer of asphalt. This alleged anthracite claim is located upon United States land, and is owned by some Mexicans.

Mr. B. J. Cooke writes to the HERALD to say that the latter claim contains a full mountain of fine anthracite. He presents a sample, which appears to be stone covered with asphaltum.

Merrill Lodge Installation.

The following officers of Merrill Lodge, No. 299 I. O. G. T., were installed last evening to fill the offices for the ensuing term: Past Chief Templar, J. G. Simonton; Chief Templar, E. M. Starr; Vice-Templar, Miss Iva Cornelius; Chaplain, Mrs. M. G. Wright; Secretary, Walter D. Clark; Assistant Secretary, Miss Lou Galer; Financial Secretary, Robert Buckingham; Treasurer, Jesse Yarnell; Marshal, Hale Alter; Deputy Marshal, Miss Lou French; Guard, Miss Kenzie; Sentinel, Frank Allender; Superintendent of Juvenile Work, Mrs. W. D. Clark.

A Novel Idea.

Mrs. Joslyn, of the Woman's Exchange, has an idea for bringing more custom to that institution and increasing its exchequer. The articles for sale in the store are all made by women who are in need of help. Mrs. Joslyn's idea is that if the 1,000 ladies of the city who can easily afford to make purchases there will buy to the extent of $1 each it would advertise the Exchange and help those who make the wares. There would be no objection, moreover, to 1,000 gentlemen making $1 purchases.

BOYLE HEIGHTS.

The Cable Road Put in Operation There.

OPENING DAY OBSERVED.

The Rubicon Safely Crossed by Mr. Robinson's Big Bridge, to the Joy of the People.

For weeks Boyle Heights has been in a state of great expectancy waiting for the opening of the cable system to that delightful suburb on the east side of the river. The father of Boyle Heights is the Hon. W. H. Workman, ex-Mayor of the city. He has been a resident of the heights for many years. He went to live there a young man just after he married Miss Boyle, whose father's flocks at that time roamed over the hills where a city stands today. The Boyle homestead was at that time the only house east of the river. Years ago Mr. Workman procured the building of a zanja to the hills near his home, and there he planted a fine vineyard, orange groves and thousands of eucalyptus trees. The people who visited the city on the East Side yesterday had an excellent opportunity to test the quality of the Workman vintages. For weeks Mr. Workman has been as busy as a nailer making preparations for the opening of the cable road. He was ably aided in the onerous task by several committees of citizens resident on Boyle Heights, as the following card in honor of the occasion will evidence:

THE OPENING.

At the hour of one yesterday the streets near the corner of First, Spring and Main were filled with an immense concourse of people, mostly invited guests of the Cable Company and of the people of Boyle Heights. In a short time the first train of a dummy and two cars came along, gaily decked in flags, flowers and foliage. It took about ten seconds of time to fill all the seats, the aisles and the steps with people. Then the first regular train passed the Spring street crossing. One train after another followed in quick succession until half a score in the pretty procession was moving down First street. There must have been at one time, between the hours of 1 and 2, nearly 1,000 people on the cars moving between the corners of First and Spring streets and the power house at the intersection of First street and Chicago street on the Heights. All day long at intervals of ten minutes the cars moved off all laden to their utmost capacity with people. It is difficult to estimate the number of people who passed the bridge going and coming between 1 and 6 o'clock. Then it was the "innings" of the people on the Heights, as they were all invited to make a trip to the city during the evening. It may sound like a big figure, but probably 10,000 fares or free tickets were collected during the afternoon and evening.

AT THE RENDEZVOUS.

All afternoon the streets around the engine house were packed with a dense crowd of humanity, children, women, gaily dressed ladies, business men, ministers, lawyers, and people of all classes and occupations. These masses of people all went through the engine houses and inspected with astonishment the machinery and equipments of the establishment. It is an immense brick structure of large floor area and very high. The people wondered at the great wheels twenty-five feet in diameter that carries the power to the cable. As much astonishment was expressed at the complicated system of wheels which takes the cable into the engine room and back to the start. A simple contrivance attracted all eyes. It is the vice by which the cable is held at about the same tension all along the line. A weight of 4,000 pounds balanced all the cars on the 22,500 feet of cable connected with this house yesterday. The steam is supplied by two Hazelton tripod boilers, each 44 feet high, of 500 horse-power capacity, 10 feet diameter, with 1,600 tubes 4x36 inches. The flues that carry these boilers are each 36 inches, and the base is 16 feet. To the top of the flues is 102 feet. There are 105,000 common bricks and 120,000 fire bricks in them. The coal is fed to them by three mechanical stokers to each boiler. They are controlled by an oscillating engine of very small size, but of the most perfect mechanism. Four tons of coal run the furnaces for 18 hours, and these stokers enable one man to attend to the six furnaces of 1000 horse power. A Hazelton water purifier perfectly clarifies every gallon of water used in the establishment. There is provision for four cables out of this house, although only one is now in use.

THE BARBECUE.

At about 2:30 the doors of the car room, where the rolling stock of the road is to go at night, were thrown open, and there a score of long tables were revealed, each of which was bending beneath the load of good things provided by the liberality of the hosts of the people. It is needless as well as impossible to describe the scene. For hours the people were feasted, literally thousands having visited this banquet hall before it became deserted at about 6 o'clock. In the programme above there was provision for a number of toasts and speeches. It would be impossible to give them in full, and a synopsis of a speech is always unfair to the person who made it and to the person who is beguiled into reading it. The central figures in the ceremonies of yesterday were Hon. W. H. Workman and J. C. Robinson, Esq., the latter being the Superintendent of the cable railroad system. Their speeches follow here in full:

WORKMAN'S WELCOME.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—A proud day is this for Boyle Heights, when she has the privilege of welcoming to her midst such an assemblage of representative citizens as I see before me, and when she can offer to her guests all those advantages that as a progressive portion of a populous city, she now possesses.

Only a resident of Boyle Heights can give full appreciation of the event of this day, for he alone has learned its entire significance from the long months of anticipation when the opening of the cable system was associated with his brightest dreams of the future as something almost beyond reality. But at last those long-cherished hopes are realized, and today with mingled pleasure and pride we see our suburb bound by bands of steel to the very heart of the beautiful City of the Angels.

On behalf of the people of Boyle Heights, I heartily congratulate the Los Angeles Cable Railway Company upon the completion of this section of their grand system.

Well may the projectors and indefatigable workers, to whose enterprise we owe this great achievement, turn aside from their labor to receive the well-earned thanks and congratulations of a grateful community.

A retrospective glance reveals the wondrous transformation that their zeal has effected. A few years ago we possessed only a one-horse car line. Today, as if by magic, we see in its stead a most magnificent cable system. Truly Boyle Heights has in the cable company a fairy godmother of the olden time, and full well we know by experience that their wand has lost none of its transforming power since the day of Cinderella.

What great confidence in the future of our city must have inspired those who came to her midst as strangers, for the purpose of undertaking and completing so enormous a work! Los Angeles cannot know a greater benefit than the result of this trust in her, for to her cable system is synonymous with progress.

But if credit is accorded those who devoted time and trouble to the best interests of our city, how can I neglect to mention those public-spirited men who, respecting the necessity of the eastern portions of the city, obtained for us those splendid steel structures that now span the once formidable Los Angeles river? If it were not for the viaducts, naught could have been accomplished; for railroad crossings and river beds fail to be tempting to the wary traveler. To us now the river is a thing of the past; for who among us deigns to look down from the viaduct upon the sandy waste that for so many years separated us from the city proper? Who ever casts a glance at the advancing train? for danger is now a thing unknown even to the most cautious.

To the many present here today Boyle Heights once more extends her heartiest welcome. Your presence is most fitting on the day of her triumph, and it is not by any means the least of the factors that contribute to make this day one ever to be cherished in the hearts of the people as the grandest in her annals.

MR. ROBINSON'S SPEECH.

Mr. President of the Board of Trade of Boyle Heights.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—In rising to respond to the toast of the company which I have the honor to represent, it affords me great pleasure indeed to acknowledge on behalf of the President and my colleagues the very gratifying expressions of your good will towards us. Until quite recently I was hopeful that our honored and esteemed President, Mr. C. B. Holmes, would have graced these proceedings with his presence, and with a charm and eloquence peculiarly his own, do justice to a toast so important as this. But it is our misfortune that, owing to the many and enormous responsibilities devolving upon him, he is prevented from being your guest upon this occasion. But although not with you as you would prefer to have him, in the flesh, he is and has been unceasingly with you in the spirit. In testimony of this I need do no more than refer to the great, remarkable and rapid progress made in the construction and equipment of this enormous undertaking, since his identification with the company less than a year ago. It is then, ladies and gentlemen, to the genius, enterprise and untiring energy of our President Mr. Holmes, and his associates in Chicago, that this honor is due; for to them and them alone belongs the credit for the brilliant position this company occupies today. Under such conditions it would be strange if the details intrusted to us were not fairly dealt with.

It may not be out of place here to describe briefly a few of the special features of the line opened yesterday, which, commencing at the power house on Boyle Heights and terminating at the terminal pit on First street, between Spring and Fort streets, is two miles in extent. The cars will, however, for the present, at least, continue their journey to the terminus of the cable line at the power house at the corner of Seventh street and Grand avenue, thus making the return journey between the two power houses six miles.

In that six miles of cable road there will probably be found a larger number of exceptional features than in any other cable line of a similar extent in the United States. There are no less than ten right-angle curves, each of which may be considered as intensifying the friction on the engine and cable to the extent that an additional half mile of cable on a straight track would do. This would, so far as the power exerted by the engines is concerned, be equivalent to their operating a straight line eleven miles in extent. Such curves as these may be considered as the bete noir—the pet aversion—of the cable railway engineer and superintendent.

Leaving the right angle curves on Fort and First, at the junction of Spring and First streets we meet with our first real difficulty; at that point the Grand Avenue and Plaza cable overlaps and for some distance both cables travel together in the same conduit. Then the abrupt switch is encountered which separates the two cables, one proceeding on the way along Spring street to the Plaza, while the other continues its journey in a direct line through First street. Gliding over the Zanja, which played its little part during the work of construction, we arrive at the foot of the ascent to the now celebrated First-street bridge or viaduct over the Los Angeles river. Here we encounter a set of depression pulleys. These depression pulleys play an important part in all cable lines where it is found necessary to make a quick change of grade, as they serve to keep the cable in its proper position, and, from a mechanical point of view, present a most interesting feature in the line.

The bridge itself is probably the longest span and most imposing structure over which is operated a cable road outside of the world renowned Brooklyn bridge. Crossing the river there are more depression pulleys, and then we commence the ascent of our steepest grade, though hardly worth referring to in connection with the cable system except from the fact that at its summit are placed the only set of crown pulleys found necessary throughout our whole system.

All these features are exceedingly novel in their way, and in them are embraced the whole of the problems in connection with the cable system, to solve which has taken the most eminent engineers in the profession, amongst whom I may mention our esteemed Engineer-in-Chief, Augustine W. Wright, and others who have labored with us in our efforts to bring this cable system to the perfection it has so far reached.

We have endeavored, to the best of our humble abilities, to work up to the high standard of excellence set us at Chicago. In doing this it was felt that we could not err in any respect either in our fidelity to those whose confidence was imposed in us, or in our duties as citizens of this our future home. How far we have succeeded in our aspirations it is for you, the pioneers and fathers of this noble city, to say.

Without referring to details connected with the construction and engineering features of the part of our system so grandly celebrated by you today, I may, however, be allowed to say that the present occasion may be considered an important event, not only in the history of the company, but in the history of the development and progress of Boyle Heights.

It makes a new era, not only in the character of our city, but is interesting to all who are concerned in solving great social and political questions. The difficulty of providing cheap and elegant homes for the increasing masses of this growing metropolis of Southern California is so overwhelming that the advent of this section of our rapid transit cable system is at least welcome as a factor in helping to solve the problem, as by its agency opportunity is now offered of easily reaching the healthy and delightful homes.

Until today the outlaying district of Boyle Heights appeared to the stranger as isolated and unattractive as any ordinary suburb. There was seemingly little or no touch or sympathy with the nervous and forceful life of the present day. Now Boyle Heights is an integral part of the great city of Los Angeles, and I and my colleagues are both proud and happy in congratulating you that it is so.

The other speakers made very eloquent addresses, Hon. E. F. Spence giving a short history of the cable railroads of the city. At the end of the facetious legal argument on the injunction, L. N. Breed, in an exceedingly neat speech, presented Mr. J. C. Robinson with a beautiful gold mounted cane, the gift of the Board of Trade of Boyle Heights. The recipient of this token of esteem responded in a neat speech. This closed the ceremonies at the engine house.

ALONG THE WAY.

The people of First street this side the river are almost as much interested in yesterday's event as are those who dwell on Boyle Heights. From Spring street to the engine-house nearly all the houses were gaily decorated with flags and all sorts of devices. One legend was very appropriate, running, "May your prosperity be like your cable, endless." Over the banqueting hall was the legend: "Boyle Heights welcomes the cable railway, August, 1889." On that side of the river the whole line of First street was gay with streamers hung at short intervals across the street. The houses, fences and gardens were decorated, and all the porches, balconies and windows were full of people whose radiant faces told how happy they were to see this rapid and easy mode of transit their's at last. The city last night was full of the people of the Heights, 4,000 of whom procured tickets to cross the river. So that 10,000 round trip fares, or free tickets, as the estimate is above, is rather under than over the mark.

From the engine house to the cemetery a large gang of men is busy getting that section of the road in running order. The work is nearly done to the top of the hill, a short distance west of the cemetery. In a few weeks that part of the road will also be operated. The regular running of the cars to the power house will begin this morning, and will continue hereafter without interruption. How well all the work has been done is evidenced by the fact that although the machinery had scarcely been tried until yesterday, it all ran without a hitch of any sort.

HOW THE HEIGHTS HAVE GROWN.

Few as the years are since Mr. Workman saw Boyle Heights covered with flocks of sheep, it is today one of the prettiest and most thriving sections of the city. It is distinguished not only for its fine residences and its immense number of pretty homes, but for its business prospects as well. The building of the cable road along its principal street a distance of over two miles, at an expense of $200,000, the location of a fine engine house in that part of the city, the fact that 4,000 people procured tickets last night on that side to visit the city center, are proof enough to show how important a part of the city Boyle Heights is. Those who visited the East-Side yesterday will need no reasoning to convince them that there are matchless attractions in that quarter. It has broad, straight, well paved streets; it has fine groves of pepper and eucalyptus trees in many portions of its area. It has an excellent water system, and its schools and churches are second to those in no other quarter of Los Angeles. From Boyle Heights the view is unrolled of the whole city of Los Angeles, the country beyond to the mountains and the sea; the valley down by Whittier to Anaheim, to Downey, Long Beach and Wilmington are spread before the eye a panorama of rare beauty. The breezes blow from the ocean with uninterrupted sweep over the Heights and are always refreshing. The cable system will be of the greatest advantage to Boyle Heights and will add much to its many attractions and advantages. With this rapid, safe and easy means of reaching the business center of the city, a residence there will be accompanied by many advantages and no disadvantages as compared with the most favorably situated portions of the city.

SOME OF THE RESIDENTS.

Mr. W. H. Workman finds his home in the midst of many elegant residences. Near by is the Hollenbeck homestead, one of the notably pretty places in the Angelic City. A little further south is the elegant residence erected by the late Mr. Davis, who married Mamie Perry, the daughter of W. H. Perry, one of the earliest residents of the Heights. His fine house is on Brooklyn Heights, next to Boyle Heights, or Pleasant avenue. It is now the home of S. C. Hubbell, Esq., who bought it some years ago. The Davis place is now the property of an eastern gentleman. South of Mr. Workman lives Al. Workman, whose place is an exceedingly fine one. Mr. Elijah Workman, a brother of the ex-Mayor, also has a pretty home on Boyle avenue. Along Pleasant avenue are many of the finest residences in this city. The same is true of all the line of First street as far as Evergreen Cemetery. George Cummings, another of the old-timers on the Heights, has a fine place near the intersection of Pleasant avenue and First street. Councilman R. E. Wirsching and his former partner in business, Samuel Reas, ex-Councilman B. Chandler, Police Commissioner M. T. Collins, Mr. F. G. Schenck, ex-Councilman Joseph Hyans, J. H. Chapman, Esq., and his law partner, J. W. Hendrick, Esq., ex-Councilman D. E. Mills, J. H. Workman, Moye Wicks, Esq., S. A. Widney, William Ruddy, and many others among the leading men of this city in all avocations are residents of the Heights, and have homes that vie with those in any other part of the city in their elegance and in the beauty of their surroundings.

A CYCLING TOUR.

The Wheelmen Will Make an Extended Trip.

An eight-days' cycling trip through the principal cities of Southern California is in projection, and will doubtless meet with due appreciation at the hands of local wheelmen. The "San Diego Tour," as it is termed, is modeled after the celebrated Big Four and Elwell's Eastern and European tours. It is intended to leave Pasadena on the morning of September 11th, passing through San Gabriel, Puente and Spadra to Pomona for dinner. Thence via Chino rancho, South Riverside and the magnificent Magnolia Drive into Riverside, where the first night's stoppage will be made.

The next day's journey leads down through the cañon slopes of the Rincon pass, skirting the shores of Lake Elsinore to Elsinore for dinner; thence on through Wildomar to Murietta for the second night's stop.

The third day's journey leads through the gorgeous scenery of the Temecula, through Ranchita and DeLuz to the coast of Oceanside for the third night's rest.

On the fourth day the route skirts the shores of the Pacific through Carlsbad and Encinitas into Del Mar for dinner; through Cordero, La Jolla and Morena into the city of San Diego and across the bay by ferry to the Hotel del Coronado, where the next entire day will be spent in seeing, by train, the Sweetwater Dam, National City, Chula Vista, the Monument, Tia Juana, and old Mexico, taking a late train for Oceanside for the fifth night.

On the morning of the sixth day the tourists will wheel along the coast through Las Flores and San Onofre to San Juan for dinner, and in the afternoon by the celebrated Mission of San Juan Capistrano, through El Toro and Modjeska into Santa Ana for the sixth stop.

Early on the seventh day the riders, passing through Orange and Anaheim, will make across the open country for Santa Monica for the last night's stay, and on the next and last day will leave Santa Monica at noon for Los Angeles, where the tour will disband.

The tour will be personally conducted by Mr. A. L. Atkins, of Pasadena, who has had considerable experience in such trips in the East. Mr. Jas. W. Lancaster, of the same city, will lead the Pasadena contingent, and prominent wheelmen in Los Angeles, Pomona and Santa Ana will organize parties from each of those cities.

THE NATIONALISTS.

They Will Meet in Regular Session This Afternoon.

Dr. Dean Clarke, of Boston, will deliver a lecture this afternoon at Turner Hall, at 3 p. m., at the regular meeting of the Nationalists Club. The doctor is one of the leading thinkers of the country, and an advanced reasoner on social questions, and comes well recommended as one of the most eloquent speakers of the day. His subject will be "Christianity, as Applied to the Theories of Bellamy," and the club look for a large audience, as the question is of general interest to all who have interested themselves in the reform of national co-operation.

The President of the club also, will read a paper on the Bellamy idea. Everyone is invited to attend, as it is endeavored by the officers and members to make the meetings of general interest.

A time is always set apart, during the proceedings, for general debate on all questions relating to co-operation, and all are invited to give their opinions in five-minute speeches.

SANTA MONICA.

Senator Jones on the Sewer Proposition—Notes about Town.

Senator Jones is interesting himself very much in the sewer proposition, and this is only natural, considering his great interests in Santa Monica. In conversation with a HERALD man today he said: "Of course I am opposed to the present outfall sewer plans, as they simply mean a death blow at the welfare of this town. Looking at the coast line it is quite evident that a swell on entering the bay would surge along the beach; and that the sewer deposits would be obnoxious, goes without doubt. As regards the granting of the right of way by the Southern Pacific, I do not think that the corporation had the authority to do so. I built the railroad under its old title of the Los Angeles and Independence line, and as far as I remember, the right of way was only granted to me for railroad purposes. I turned all the documents over to the Southern Pacific, but there will be no difficulty in tracing the original grants."

W. J. Brotherton, the shoemaker who last fall attempted to walk with a wheelbarrow from Los Angeles to Cincinnati, is working quietly in his store on Third street. He says, however, that on the 1st of March next he will start to walk to New York and that he has made all his arrangements therefor.

A little misunderstanding has arisen regarding the slight trouble at the Arcadia referred to in yesterday's HERALD. The man Henderson, who is referred to as having been charged with disorderly conduct, is an entirely different person to Capt. Anderson, who has been sojourning at the Arcadia for a fortnight past. The Captain simply had a little trouble with the proprietors of the hotel regarding a claim to which he thought he was entitled, and although at one time it looked as if the representatives of justice would be called upon to adjudicate, the whole thing was amicably settled without recourse to the decision of the law.

A number of the teachers who have been attending the Chautauqua at Long Beach are enjoying a recreation at Santa Monica.

Everything is in readiness for the big barbecue tomorrow, and visitors to Santa Monica will be regaled with a variety of amusements. In addition to the Spanish repast and the daring jump from the balloon by Prof. Van Tassel, there will be trapeze performances on North Beach and the famous slide for life.

Every room in the Arcadia is now occupied, the few remaining apartments being taken early in the day by those coming to participate in the hop this evening.

Miss Fanny Davenport arrived at the Arcadia this afternoon, according to arrangement.

Mr. N. E. Swartwout, the Secretary of the Southern California Lawn Tennis Association, arrived today to perfect the arrangements for the forthcoming annual tournament. He says that judging by the indications it will be the biggest affair of the kind ever held here.

The polo players had another game this afternoon on their grounds on Sixth street.

Messrs. Winslow and Vanker, the well known grocerymen here, have received a splendid assortment of goods during the past few days.

Mrs. Doria Jones and Miss Constance Jones are at the Arcadia.

Mr. J. R. Stephens, of Colton, has taken a tent on North Beach for the summer.

Captain and Mrs. Anderson and their daughter Viera returned to their home at San Gabriel this afternoon, after a pleasant two weeks' sojourn at the Arcadia.

Detective Metzler was among the many on the sands today.

A Good Name.

Although the HERALD had closed its columns to names for the hotel, here comes one so good, and from so good a source, the rule is broken in its favor. The letter explains all:

EDITORS HERALD—Will you permit me to name the great hotel? Let it be named in honor of the famous explorer who discovered the Pacific ocean. A fitting name to be perpetuatad. "Hotel Balboa," Los Angeles, California, will read well. Very truly, yours.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 4, 1889.

The Illustrated Herald on Sale.

This morning, and hereafter until further notice, the LOS ANGELES ILLUSTRATED HERALD will be for sale over the counters of our business office. It realizes all that we have claimed for it, and it is, unquestionably, the handsomest publication of the kind ever issued in California. In the artistic character of the illustrations and the value of the letter-press the ILLUSTRATED HERALD is absolutely unique. Everyone who can afford to do so, should send a copy of it to his friends in the East. It will do untold good. The pictorial and statistical matter will do much to disabuse the minds of the Eastern people of the stories so industriously circulated to the prejudice of this section. We take great pride in the fact that this beautiful publication—a miracle of the art preservative of all arts—was issued from the HERALD Job Office.

The Boyle Heights Jubilee.

There have seldom been more enthusiastic demonstrations in Los Angeles than the celebration of the formal inauguration of the Cable Company's traffic to Boyle Heights yesterday. The growth of that interesting section has been one of the marvels of Southern California. It has gone forward on a career of progress and prosperity in spite of very defective facilities of communication with the heart of the city. The great oaks which from small acorns grow afford the only fitting similie to characterize the ever increasing growth on the east and southeast side of the river. Having accomplished so much under difficulties, it is hard to put a period to the advance of this charming quarter. The Cable Railway is destined to increase indefinitely the suburban portions of Los Angeles. With a splendid viaduct and a thoroughly equipped cable road, the Boyle Heights region is but in the initial of its career. Gaily decked cars, bounteously spread boards, oratory of a high grade, and hilarity unbounded, fittingly united to celebrate the advent of that great stimulant to settlement and prosperity, the Boyle Heights branch of the Los Angeles Cable Road. It requires but a slight aid of the imagination to see this superb line extended to the heart of the Laguna ranch, and to conjure up in the mind's eye an extension of the elegant homes that now crown the bluff east of the Los Angeles river to the northern banks of the San Gabriel.

Have We a Tite Barnacle Hereabouts.

At a late meeting of the State Viticultural Board great dissatisfaction was expressed at the action of Mr. Pierce, the expert sent out by the government to investigate into the nature of the vine pest which has already done so much damage to the vines in Southern California. That gentleman appears to have concentrated his whole attention upon the Santa Ana valley. Mr. Shorb stated at the meeting of the State Viticultural Board held in San Francisco Wednesday that he had addressed a polite note to the representative of the National Agricultural Department, but without results. He added: "I regretted that he (Mr. "Pierce) did not come; because, even if "he derived no benefit from our investi- "gations, our failures would have been "of use in enabling him to reach a re- "sult. He is working in Santa Ana, "where there are very few healthy vines "to see." The President of the State Viticultural Commission, Mr. C. A. Wetmore, supplemented Mr. Shorb's remarks by the following: "I would like "the public to understand that Mr. "Pierce was sent here when this Com- "mission asked the Agricultural De- "partment to send an expert. He has "located himself where the disease "started, and where nearly all the vines "are destroyed, instead of investigating "the region in the San Gabriel valley, "where the healthy and the diseased "vines, growing side by side, can be "compared." Mr. Pierce seems to have caught the fine Circumlocution Office trick of "How Not To Do It." It is to be hoped that he will ungraciously unbend before he leaves this region, and condescend to look at some of the vineyards which really contain an instructive object lesson.

THE extraordinary collapse of Boulangism at the late French elections would, one would naturally suppose, place that peculiar compound of soldier and statesman under a total and permanent eclipse. And yet, strange to say, he still has multitudes of followers amongst the more intelligent and revolutionary of the French Republicans. Many Angeleños remember the young and graceful General, who paid our city a visit after the celebration of the Centennial of Yorktown. He was at that time the guest of Mr. Eugene Meyer, who was then the French consul at Los Angeles. His career has been a singular one; and, were his record that of an American, he would have been described as having gone up like a rocket and come down like a stick. It is never easy, however, to tell when the career of a Frenchman has ended. When Louis Napoleon landed on the coast of France with a live eagle tied to a string, and let it loose on Gallic ground, it was thought that his incarceration in the fortress of Ham had ended him for all time. The incident was regarded as a supreme fiasco, and yet his real anti-climax did not come for a number of decades later, and not until he had been President and Emperor of the French. The situation as respects Boulanger, however, is complicated by the fact that his health is not at all robust; his frequent fainting spells, which are said to arise from wounds received in battle, causing grave anxiety to his more intimate friends. A man who is expected to enact a stormy and revolutionary rôle ought to possess, one would think, the constitution of the First Napoleon, who was frequently known to ride a hundred miles on horseback in a single day, and whose tremendous vitality and endurance were regarded with mingled terror and admiration by his personal staff.

THE extreme devotion of the Republican party to the Civil Service policy is well illustrated by the re-organization of the Pension Bureau under Corporal Tanner. When that gallant Republican veteran took charge of this department of the government the Medical Division consisted of twenty-six Republicans and sixteen Democrats. There is only one Democrat in that body now, and he is probably only kept there for dress parade. Mr. Cleveland and his Pension Commissioner, Gen. Black, put partisanship to one side, and contented themselves with simply filling vacancies during four years. The corporal, however, very probably thinks that he requires medical men after his own heart when it comes to railroading his comrades into small fortunes on the grounds of physical disabilities theretofore never discovered. Amongst the notable exploits of the new Pension Commissioner was the payment, during two weeks, to two veterans, of $16,000 each, arrears of pensions. It was this gay and gallant administration of his office which has made Secretary Noble appoint a committee to examine into the affairs of his subordinate. Whitewash is quite cheap in Washington, as elsewhere, but the mere fact that his own political associates are getting restive may cause the valiant corporal to slow up a little and allow a few dollars of the surplus to remain in the Treasury. The general sentiment is cordial to the gallant defenders of the Union, but it is felt by the Harrison administration that it might be bad policy after all to allow Tanner to replace a surplus by a deficit.

THE naval demonstration at Spithead, which will be given in honor of the visit of the Emperor Wilhelm to his grandmother, will probably be the grandest marine spectacle ever seen on earth, and yet it is questionable whether it will excite as much enthusiasm as would a display of the "hearts of oak" which at the beginning of the century, under Lords Nelson and Collingwood, won such superb victories for England. Now, as then, however, Britannia rules the waves, and even more distinctively now than then, for at the beginning of the nineteenth century the little navy of the United States could be easily outnumbered by that of England, but could not be outfought. Seamanship was in those days at a high premium, while the naval tactician was just springing into being. In a reference to the formidable armament of the Benbow, which will in all likelihood figure in the Spithead demonstration, we said in the HERALD of yesterday that her guns were capable of throwing a six hundred pound shell thirteen miles. In this we were in error. The Benbow is said to be able to hurl a shell weighing eighteen hundred pounds, containing nine hundred pounds of explosive matter, that distance. Such a missile, coming in contact with the most robust individual, would easily disturb the assimilation of his food into the ordinary wholesome chyme and chyle. The young German Emperor is said to be ambitious of building big iron-clads. The Spithead pageant will doubtless increase this tendency.

THE Tribune delights to illustrate two charming propositions, viz., "How We Apples Swim," and the Fly on the Chariot Wheel of one of Æsop's ingenious fables. In its own infinite conceit it has already carried the bonds, the contracts have all been let out to the amount of $1,280,000, with more to follow, the contractors are already importing their Italian and Hungarian laborers, and the "boodle" is being placed where it will do the most good. Undismayed by the failure of its most notable literary effort, its guide book to the Santa Clara placer mines, it still enjoys the pleasures of hope, and fondly believes that the fact that it advocates the wasting of the Los Angeles sewage makes the success of the bonds an assured thing. All the same, the bond proposition is already defeated, and the occasional opinionated ass who thinks they have a chance of being voted will be able to drink all the sewage that will pass to the ocean by way of the Ballona without serious detriment to his health.

ENGLAND'S short wheat crop will put many a dollar into the pockets of the California farmers this year if the villainous devisers of "corners" let the producers alone. The result of such deals as were engineered by Flood and Mackey and "Old Hutch" is to cause Russian grain to pour into Liverpool, and to produce a disastrous collapse in prices in the United States after our own people have brought about impossible prices in Chicago and San Francisco. Barley, too, is steadily advancing, and if the speculators will only keep their hands off everything will go well with the producer.

HALSTEAD HONORED.

Welcomed Home After His Tour Abroad.

BANQUETTED BY HIS PARTISANS.

He Intimates That He is in the Field for the United States Senate.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

CINCINNATI, August 3.—A reception to Murat Halstead upon his return from Europe was given tonight by the Republican clubs of Hamilton county, in Music Hall. The great hall was elaborately decorated, and a vast crowd was present. A wild scene of waving hats and handkerchiefs followed the entrance of Mayor Mosby, escorting Mr. Halstead, which was repeated a few minutes later on the entrance of Governor Foraker. When all the clubs had been seated, Mayor Mosby made the welcoming address, containing allusions to the honored guest's fearlessness as a journalist and the suggestion of the usefulness of such a quality in the Senate of the United States.

When Mr. Halstead arose to reply, he had a most flattering reception, which continued several minutes. After expressing his surprise and gratification at the reception accorded him, Mr. Halstead said:

"Concerning the action of the Senate in my case which his Honor has referred to, I have no grievance I desire to have the public concerned about. The action by the Senate was, so far as Republicans opposed me, largely owing to misapprehensions which I was unable at the time to correct. There was also evidence in some cases of personal feeling that did not do me justice. But, however intended on the part of those who rejected me, I cheerfully and sincerely recognize the fact that they did me a kindness. I have been abroad on my own hook and have accomplished the mission most important to myself—restoration of health. The President had no difficulty in finding a man for the place in Hon. William Walter Phelps, a gentleman admirably qualified to discharge the duties of that office.

"Touching inquiry as to whether I am a candidate for the Uniten States Senate, I do not wish to have that urged upon the people. That is a matter for consideration after the Republican victory which I confidently expect in November by the triumphant re-election of Governor Foraker and the election of a Republican General Assembly. When this Republican Legislature is elected, if the Republicans in it shall think I would be a good representative man; that in their judgment it would be a good thing to elect me Senator of the United States, I should regard it as a great honor and attempt to perform the duties of the office to the best of my ability. But the object to be aimed at, however, and which cannot be too clearly and strongly stated, is not any individual triumph, but to make sure that Ohio shall be hereafter represented in the Senate of the United States by two Republicans. No personal ambition should be permitted to interfere with that object.

"The more I have traveled abroad and the more I have become acquainted with the people and affairs of other nations, the higher has been my appreciation of the conditions of life in our country, where, however diverse may be the fortunes of the people, their opportunities are far greater than in any foreign country. Speaking for myself, while understanding that we have no occasion to be sorry for the Germans, French or English who occupy some of the most favored portions of the globe, and have attained a splendid civilization, I must say I have an unfeigned preference both for the climate and diet of the United States of America."

His address was listened to with interest and frequently applauded.

W. H. Parham, on behalf of the colored people of Ohio, made a brief address, extrolling Mr. Halstead, and Mr. Jacoby followed with a welcoming speech on behalf of the press.

Governor Foraker in his address said his duty was an unnecessary one. He was to welcome Mr. Halstead on behalf of the Republicans of Ohio, but Mr. Halstead knew he was welcomed long before this time. The Governor went on to tell of the high regard the people had for his courage and honesty, for the purity and simplicity of his life, his intellectual patriotism and his complete and entire Republicanism. It was fortunate that his return, restored to health, is at this time when an important election is about to occur. It was an election when Halstead's sturdy service was needed to assist in blotting out the most foul taint upon the Legislative action of Ohio, the corrupt election of Henry P. Payne to the Senate.

Drifting into political matters the Governor spoke of the marked reform in the election law of Ohio in the past four years, and of the police force, both of which he claimed as the results of Republican legislation. In conclusion he touched upon the recent manifestations of lawlessness on the part of certain people in Cincinnati, and repeated his assertion made in his recent letter to Mayor Mosby, that obedience to law is the first duty of citizenship. Referring to the warning that in taking this ground he would offend the German voter, he said he had no fear of that. He knew the German citizens to be true and patriotic and lovers of justice.

Throughout his address the assembly gave liberal applause, which was especially marked in his eulogy of Mr. Halstead, and his declaration in favor of the support of the law.

SIGNING THE SIOUX.

Sitting Bull Raises a Disturbance at Standing Rock.

STANDING ROCK, Dakota, August 3.—A final council was held this afternoon, with all the chiefs present but Galt and Running Antelope. Grass made a very nice speech, in which he said, as his friends at the other agencies had broken their promise not to sign, he was now willing to accept the treaty. Mad Bear followed to the same effect. When signing was about to begin, Sitting Bull, who had come with his band, mounted on their ponies, entered the circle and asked to talk. This being considered too late an application, he was refused the opportunity. He retired in anger, and when John Grass, Mad Bear, Big Head and Deer Face had signed the bill, he ordered his young men to stampede the crowd who were gathered around the tables. A rush on horseback was made which scattered the crowd right and left, but by the prompt action of agent McLaughlin the attempted disturbance was quelled. A strong force of police were soon placed in position, and several of the young braves were taken into custody, after which Sitting Bull retired to his camp, followed by his band. This little episode over, the Indians again congregated about the tables, and signing went on as rapidly as four clerks could identify and inscribe the names. At this writing about 400 names have been taken, and signing is still progressing rapidly.

BASEBALL.

The Senators Out-Play the Bean-Eaters—Other Games.

WASHINGTON, August 3.—The Senators, by out-playing the Bostons in every respect, won a comparatively easy victory. Score: Washington, 8; Boston, 3.

PITTSBURG, August 3.—The Indianapolis team took the fourth game from Pittsburg today. Beckley was mainly responsible for it. The home team played very ragged ball. Score: Pittsburg, 6; Indianapolis, 8.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Beaten and Tener divided honors in today's game, but in the sixth, Cleveland bunched hits and scored the winning runs. Score: Chicago, 1; Cleveland 2.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Today's game was wretchedly played and was stopped at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness. Score: New York, 18; Philadelphia, 8.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

PHILADELPHIA, August 3.—Athletics, 3; Louisville, 0.

BALTIMORE, August 3.—Baltimore, 6; Cincinnati, 2.

COLUMBUS, August 3.—Columbus, 4; Kansas City, 5.

BROOKLYN, August 3.—Brooklyn, 13; St. Louis, 6.

CALIFORNIA GAMES.

SACRAMENTO, August 3.—The home club outplayed at every point, today, the Oaklands, and won easily. The game was an interesting one up to the fifth inning, when Farrell gave out and Hayes was substituted. In the sixth he was hit so hard that error followed error, and the Sacramentos ran bases at will, winning by a score of 13 to 5.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 3.—Hard hitting was the feature of today's game, between the Stocktons and San Franciscos. The home team was beaten. In the seventh inning Shea was badly spiked on the wrist, the flesh being laid bare to the bone, necessitating his giving way to Thompson.

MERCED, August 3.—One of the finest games of ball ever played here was played this afternoon between the Cohen & Wise club, of this place, and the Santa Cruz club, for the amateur championship of the State. The home club won. Score, 7 to 6.

Common Law and Divorce.

CHICAGO, August 3.—Judge Tuley today rendered a decesion on the somewhat noted common law marriage case of Bowman vs. Bowman. Frank Bowman is a well known lawyer of St. Louis, and Ida M. Bowman sued him for divorce, claiming a common law marriage. The verdict was in her favor, at the end of a long and sensational trial. Lawyer Bowman moved for a new trial, and it was this action on which the decision was rendered today. After reviewing the case the Court announced that he would grant a new trial on the condition that Bowman would purge himself of the odium of his position, he being in the contempt of the Court for not paying back the alimony and solicitor's fees. He must do this by October 1st, or the Court would everrule the motion for a new trial, enter a decree of divorce according to the verdict of the jury, and let plaintiff take judgment for the amount due her. Mrs. Bowman claims to believe that the back alimony will not be paid, and that on this account client will get her decree.

St. Louis Wants It.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3.—At a meeting of citizens held this afternoon, at which a great deal of enthusiasm was manifested, it was resolved that the citizens of St. Louis should put forth every exertion, and make every effort possible to secure the holding of the World's Fair in this city, in 1892. A committee of twelve, headed by Governor Francis and Mayor Noonan, was appointed to select a committee of one hundred to organize at once and begin effective work.

Sprinting Records Lowered.

DETROIT, Mich., August 3.—At the summer meeting of the Detroit Amateur Athletic Club this afternoon, John Owen, Jr., of Detroit, lowered the record for a 100-yard dash, making it in 9¾ seconds. The best previous record was 10 seconds. Owen also lowered the 22-yard run, making it in 21 2-5 seconds. The best previous amateur record was 22 seconds.

A Domestic Tragedy.

BALTIMORE, August 3.—At midnight the neighbors of William Dolan, a bookmaker, living on East Lanvale street, were awakened by the sound of four pistol shots. The house was broken open, and stretched on the floor were found the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Dolan. As there were powder marks on the man's shirt, and as the pistol was near his body, he must have done the shooting. A domestic quarrel is supposed to have been the cause.

The murdered man leaves a widow and several children.

They fought with six-ounce gloves, having placed $100 each on the result of the battle, and in the last round the 186-pound attorney knocked his opponent, who was three pounds lighter, completely out. It is stated that friends of the parties immediately matched them for $200 a side to fight next Saturday night somewhere outside of the city limits. The police are looking for the participants tonight.

THE BLACK DIAMOND.

She Sails Into Port at Victoria—Her Captain's Story.

VICTORIA, B. C., August 3.—The schooner Black Diamond, reported seized by the Triumph which arrived on Sunday evening last, sailed into the harbor last evening. Captain Thomas came ashore and reported that Lieutenant Tuttle, three officers and two boat crews boarded him from the American cutter Rush the 11th of July. He sighted the Rush about five miles away and immediately made sail, but was overhauled in an hour's time. He kept on his way, and after three times ordering him to lay to, the Rush steamed across his bows, compelling him to do so. Lieutenant Tuttle told him he was under seizure, and demanded his papers. These Captain Thomas refused to give, and after repeated refusals Lieutenant Tuttle ordered the locker broken open and took charge of the papers. An American bluejacket was then placed aboard and given written instructions to take the schooner to Sitka and deliver her over to the Collector. The Captain and mate were detained and the crew set at liberty. The Rush then steamed away. Captain Thomas took the vessel to Ounalaska harbor to see if any English war vessels were there, passing the Rush four days after the seizure, but he was not hailed by her. Finding no protection at Ounalaska, he sailed out of Behring's Sea and on to Victoria, arriving here this evening. John Hawkins, the American seaman on board, reported to the Consulate the facts and handed over the instructions. The matter has been wired to Washington.

A Family of Comets.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 3.—Prof. E. S. Holden writes from the Lick Observatory that a comet discovered by Mr. Brooks, of Geneva, New York, July 6th, has been regularly observed at the Lick Observatory by Mr. Barnard. On Thursday night he found the comet, attended by two other objects, and on Saturday night his observation showed these to be companion comets, one of them having a decided tail. Besides the three comets mentioned there are four other objects near, which are probably members of the same family. This phenomenon is rare, although it has been observed before.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 3.—Advices from Honolulu, received by the steamer Mariposa today, state that the United States steamer Alert left Honolulu July 8th, for Fanning Island, to bring the Nipsic to Honolulu for repairs. Plaintiff lays claim to a large section of land in and around Marysville, and has sued about thirty landowners. He has also an action against the county of Yuba, which, if successful, would give him possession of the ground on which the Yuba County Hospital was built, a few years ago, at a cost of $40,000. He has given notice of appeal to the Supreme Court.

VIRGINIA, Nev., August 3.—A deed was executed today by the United States Marshal, consigning to the Union Trust Company of New York, all the property of the Sutro Tunnel Company included in the sale of the property January 14, 1889. The sale was made to satisfy a mortgage held by Hugh McCalmont et al. A suit for foreclosure was called in the United States Circuit Court at Carson, October 1, 1888, resulting in a decree ordering the sale of the property. The property was bid in by agents of the Union Trust Company, for $1,625,000.

Horsethieves Captured.

PUYALLUP, W. T., August 3.—Two men, who stole a horse and buggy at Seattle, were arrested here this afternoon. While Marshal Oldham was handcuffing one, the other escaped to the bush. He was well-armed and stood off the crowd for an hour. He shot at the Marshal twice. The Marshal and a deputy entered the brush and forced him to surrender. The horsethief received a flesh wound near the knee. Both thieves were started back to Seattle in custody of officers.

Forest Fires.

ELLENSBURG, W. T., August 3.—The forest fires in the Cascade range continue to spread, doing great damage to timber, sawmills, mines, etc. There is no estimating the damages, but the timber is destroyed for miles on the upper Yakima and Clealum rivers. Ranchers are now engaged night and day in that section, fighting the flames. A dense smoke covers the entire country for hundreds of miles.

A Matter of Rates.

CHICAGO, Ill., August 3.—Chairman Walker, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, has rendered a decision on the matters of rates on range cattle from Fort Caspar to Rawlins, referred to him by the Trans-Missouri Association. He says it is probable that the subject can be taken up during the winter among the lines interested, and a more satisfactory arrangement be made for the next year's traffic. At the present time it does not seem possible to make any other award than the authorization of the the rate from Rawlins as proposed by the Union Pacific, at the same sum as the Fort Caspar rate.

FRIDAY'S NEWS,

Which Was Left Over Yesterday.

MAJOR TWINE'S LITTLE RACKET.

The Continuation of the Cole Case. Some Valuable School Statistics—The Harris Divorce.

Friday morning about 10 o'clock a colored politician named G. H. Twine, but more familiary known as "Major," was arrested by Officer Auble on the corner of Fifth and Main streets for disturbing the peace. He was so much under the "influence" as to be utterly unaware of his surroundings, and when taken to the station it required a good deal of forcible persuasion before he could be searched.

On being taken into court at 1:30 o'clock for trial, he appeared to be quiet and sober, but about five minutes after taking his seat in the dock with ten other lawbreakers, he became excited again. He stood up on a chair and yelled out that he was an "outraged citizen," and that he wanted the Court to know it. While gesticulating wildly and yelling at the top of his voice, his harangue was cut short summarily by Officer Stuart. The colored giant in blue grabbed the festive Major by the seat of his pants and the scruff of the neck and lifted him bodily out of the dock. On reaching the floor, however, the Major became belligerent, and though not an abnormally large man, it required the combined efforts of six guardians of the peace to take him down stairs to jail. In the evening Mr. J. B. Lankershim appeared at the station and inquired for Major Twine; and on being informed of his condition, went his surety in the sum of $100. The prisoner was subsequently released upon "sobering" up.

THE COLE CASE.

It is Continued Until the Fourteenth of the Month.

A large number of expectant sensation hunters assembled in the Police Court Friday morning with a view of watching the proceedings in the preliminary examination of J. A. Cole. The defendant was arrested on Monday afternoon by Officer Auble on Temple street, and charged with having libeled Miss Pearl Weller, the daughter of a prominent Spring-street hardware merchant. The offense consisted of writing a letter to the young lady in which he threatened to expose an alleged undue intimacy, which he pretended to have seen, between her and a youth named Fred Kramer.

On the case being called at 10 o'clock by Police Judge Owens, the defendant's attorney stated to the Court that he was unable, through stress of business in the Superior Court, to conduct the case for his client until the 14th instant, and as the District Attorney did not offer any objection, a continuance to that date was granted by the Court, and Cole was taken back to jail.

BELLE HARRIS.

She Wants a Divorce From Her Present Husband.

As a sequel to the alleged diamond robbery in which Belle Harris and her husband were said to have worked the panel game on Mrs. Margaret Miller, comes an application on the part of the Harris woman to be divorced from her husband. Mrs. Harris alleges improper intercourse between Mr. Harris and Mrs. Miller. It is a most unsavory affair from beginning to end. Mrs. Harris' record here or the past three or four years would fill a book of the most Rabelaisian type.

A new charge has been filed in Judge Austin's Court in which the Harrises will have to appear for the robbery of Mrs. Miller.

A Youthful Artist.

In the show window of Sanborn & Vail's art store on Spring street, there is exhibited the bust of a little boy. It was done by Miss Eva Rosa Griffith a sixteen year old daughter of George Butler Griffith, who exhibits unusual talent as an artist. The bust is a cast from a clay bust for which little Joseph Griffith was the model. A photograph which stands near the bust shows that it is not only a beautiful piece of art, but a faithful likeness as well. Miss Griffith will attend the Yale Art School next year and will subsequently study abroad.

Spreckels En Route.

J. D. Spreckels passed through the city Friday on his way north in his special car Zelanda. He has been spending some time at San Diego, where it is said, by current rumor, that he has purchased a controlling interest in the Hotel Coronado. News came by telegraph last evening that he had been elected Vice-President of the Coronado Company. Mr. Spreckels was accompanied by Con O'Connor and family, of San Francisco. They are stopping in the city for a short time.

Justice in the Rough.

A newly elected Justice of the Peace not a thousand miles from Milford delivered the following charge to the jury the other day: "Gentlemen of the Jury—Charging a jury is a new business to me, as this is my first case. You have heard all the evidence in the case as well as myself; you have also heard what the learned counsel have said. If you believe what the counsel for the plaintiff has told you, your verdict will be for the plaintiff; but if, on the other hand, you believe what the defendant's counsel has told you, then you will give a verdict for the defendant. But if you are like me, and don't believe what either of them said, then I'll be d——d if I know what you will do. Constable, take charge of the jury."—[Milford, Ind., Herald.

Origin of "We Won't Go Home."

An interesting history of an old and well-known comic tune was given by Prof. Ensel, a music teacher, in a speech at the Music Teachers' Association. He said that when the army of the First Napoleon was in Egypt in 1799, the camp for a while was near the pyramids. One afternoon, about sunset, the band was playing. The inhabitants of the desert had collected near and were listening to the music. Nothing unusual happened until the band struck up a tune which we now bear under the name of "We Won't Go Home Till Morning." Instantly there were the wildest demonstrations of joy among the Bedouins. They embraced each other and shouted and danced in the delirium of their pleasure. The reason was that they were listening to the favorite and oldest tune of their people. Prof. Ensel stated that the tune had been taken to Europe from Africa in the eleventh century by the Crusaders, and had lived separately in both countries for over seven hundred years. This is certainly enough to make "We Won't Go Home Till Morning" a classic. Its origin is more of a mystery than the source of the Nile.

SWITZER'S TRAIL.

News From the Mountain Resort.

THE ASCENT ON A BURRO'S BACK.

Difficulties Which Have Been Overstated—Some Mountain Scenery—Who are There.

Of the residents of Los Angeles and Pasadena who, as the summer becomes warm, seek a few day's rest, fully one-half care more for the mountains than the seashore, and there is no doubt but that the trails through the cañons would be as crowded as is Santa Monica or Long Beach, were it not for the impression that generally prevails that these trails are places to be avoided by the timorous. The resorts in the foothills offer no attractions at this time of year, for as a general rule the weather there is as sultry and as enervating as in the cities. The person looking for invigorating air must go further into the mountains—must, in fact, cross the first range of mountains to the north and seek some retreat where the creeks run throughout the year, beneath the pines and other trees of large growth. Owing to the comparative newness of Southern California, the mountain summer resort is at present a scarce article, and those which are to be found are generally of the most primitive nature.

A short time ago the HERALD contained a description of Bear Valley, a place which is growing into prominence as a resort. The outlay for the purpose of making this resort comfortable for the pleasure seeker has not as yet been very great, but when it becomes known that it can command a steady stream of visitors, no doubt the accommodations will be improved.

The San Gabriel cañon is a most attractive place and has probably been visited by five or six hundred persons this year, but all who went had to take their tents with them and camp out. So far no one has ventured to build a hotel at any point either on the north or west fork. That a good, comfortable hotel would pay there, no one can doubt.

The next stream which issues from the mountains is the Arroyo Seco, which at present supplies Pasadena with water, carried in pipes which extend several miles above the mouth of the cañon which opens into the valley through Devil's Gate, half way between Pasadena and La Cañada. It was through this gate that a HERALD reporter passed a few days ago on his way to Switzer's camp. Some one not long ago reported that the trail leading to Switzer's was dangerous in places; that it was possible to look downward more than a thousand feet from the trail which winds around the mountains, but that report was exaggerated. It is true that after driving in a comfortable wagon through the cañon for a distance of about three miles alongside a rippling brook which flows beneath the trees effectually prevent the sun from making the heat unbearable, that travelers bound for Switzer's stop for lunch at the Halfway House, and there for the first time are introduced to the patient little donkey called the "burro." On the backs of these sure-footed animals the most timid lady feels herself as safe as if she were on foot. A two-mile ride on the burro takes the traveler to the foot of the mountains, through some of the prettiest places imaginable. The stream is crossed in sixty-two places before the mountains are reached, and a few days ago several parties had camped along its banks to enjoy themselves in the shade. The climbing then commences, and as the trail zigzags upward the travelers wonder when they are to reach those dangerous or dizzy places they have heard so much about. Half-way up a rest for a few moments is taken, and through a gap in the mountains below a glimpse of Pasadena and Los Angeles can be obtained. Higher and higher the burros climb along a trail which is narrow in no place, and whose outward edge is lined with trees and brush, which, in case of a stumble or fall, would effectually prevent a plunge down the mountain side. The Hog's Back, an interesting place, next attracts attention. It is a narrow ridge high in air. Below on either side can be seen rocky cañons, the depth of which can only be guessed. Then the summit is reached, and a few minutes later the American flag flying at the top of a tall tree below announces the fact that Switzer's is at hand. Ten minutes later the burros quicken their steps and the travelers are brought to a stand-still in the center of a cluster of tents dignified by the name of Switzer's Camp. The tents are situated under a grove of tall trees, many of them pine, and a few feet away flows a running stream which never fails. On all sides rise mountain peaks many feet, and to these have been given names, such as Disappointment, Emma, Rose, Strawberry and a dozen others. Those who care for a climb amuse themselves by scaling the various peaks, and all come back with loud words of praise for the sights they witnessed. Not long since a party of twelve or fourteen slept on top of Disappointment Peak and they have not yet finished describing the beauty of the sunset and the sunrise.

Mr. Switzer has been in the cañon but four years, but he has within that time succeeded in establishing a resort, which were it better known and its ease of access understood, would never be without as many guests as he could accommodate. Among those who have been at Switzer's during the week are: Mrs. Cornelia Scarborough, Miss Ada Scarborough, Mrs. Margaret Anderson, Mrs. Walter A. Vernon, Miss Margaret Glich, Miss Jessie Washburn, Mrs. E. A. Hanchette, Mr. Alber Biles, Mr. Rendall, Mr. H. Washburn and Mr. Edward Cheever, besides several children, for whom it is a perfect paradise.

HOW MANY WAYS CAN THIS BE READ?

THE LOS ANGELES HERALD IS BY ALL ACKNOWLEDGED have been the prime factor in the discovery and making known of the resources of this section. To its sagacious outgivings more than to any other agency our marvelous development is attributed.

THE HERALD has from its inception watched with a single eye the budding industries of this portion of the State. For each good enterprise this journal has at all times had a word of cheerful encouragement. In spite of the skeptical, it has survived to see all of its earlier predictions fulfilled to the letter.

THE HERALD to-day takes the lead in all respects among the papers of Southern California. Its first care still is the material, intellectual and social interests of its section. It aims to be truthful rather than over-zealous in its publication of news; to be conservative rather than over-sensational, in its policy; to be clean and decent, respecting the sacred precincts of the home and fireside, rather than indecently salacious in its tone.

THE HERALD gets all the news from all quarters of the globe with promptness accuracy and dispatch. Its local staff is energetic and well-trained to miss nothing of real importance to its readers. It is always alive to all public enterprises.

THE HERALD still takes pride in aiding any legitimate material, intellectual or social movement which will benefit the people. No other journal in this section approaches it in those important respects.

For a Clean Family Paper Take the Herald!

FOR THE MATERIAL INTERESTS OF THE COUNTRY TAKE THE HERALD!

Air Resistance to Trains.

The flat front of a locomotive and its projective cab are highly unsuitable for rapid movement through an atmosphere which has a pressure so great at fifteen pounds per square inch, and therefore considerable inertia. The remedy for this is simple, and ahead resistance would be much reduced by conforming, approximately, an engine front to the well known shape of a boat or ship. It is very much wiser, however, to reduce the air resistance at the rear of a train. A marine architect who made his ship's stern absolutely rectangular and flat would be counted a worse man than he who made a bluff bow, and yet railway engineers have been dragging flat-stern vessels at sixty miles per hour through the atmosphere at an immense expenditure of power, and no one of them has cared to test the effect of adding a light tapering frame to the rear end of a train, and noting the decreased resistance, although every one is familiar with the rush of air which follows a train in the attempt to fill up the vacuum formed."—[Railroad Gazette.

Fashion Notes.

Empire green will continue in favor indefinitely, so perfectly does it harmonize with shades of red, cream or gray. As a background of gold, silver, or colored galloons it is particularly effective.

Summer driving cloaks have very large sleeves, recalling to mind the fashion of our grandmothers' days. Light taffeta silk is usually employed for these, with simple trimmings of oriental or metallic embroideries.

Surplice waists of gauzy gowns have the fullness from the shoulders shaped into a yoke by running a ribbon into a casing that extends from the armhole to a point lower down in the front. These ribbons meet at the point and tie in a bow.

Felix and Worth are authorities for the new mode of applying ribbons to lawn dress skirts. Six rows of shirrings done in pairs appear below the waist line. An inch and a half space is between the double rows. Ribbon an inch wide is then passed in and out between the rows of shirring.

The latest development of the directoire cape shows eccentricity as to color only. The hilltops and green lanes of summer resorts will blaze with its fiery hue, for fashion ordains that the wildest of untamed scarlet shall be selected for the five overlapping circles that cover shapely shoulders.

A pretty sailor hat for a girl with pronounced features has its brim faced with white silk laid on in tiny plaits. Around the crown a wide ribbon is drawn, ending in a cluster of loops at the back, and mingling with the loops is a bunch of white clover that sways gracefully every time the wearer moves her head.

Quaint fichus made of a square of plain or embroidered lawn, mull, or net edged with lace and folded diagonally furnish graceful drapery for plain waists, and are found generally becoming. The back corners are rounded and the front ones tuck inside the wide belt or sash. These dainty adjuncts contribute to the elegance of effect in any costume, be it of silk, lace, or cotton fabric.

"Where's your pa, sonny?" "He's out." "Ma in?" "No; she's out." "Brother in?" "No; he's out." "Then you're the only one in?" "Na; I ain't in; three out, side out; I'm just left on bases."—[Burdette.

DAILY HERALD.

THE NEW QUARTERS.

The City Hall to be Opened Next Week.

THE INTERIOR ARRANGEMENTS.

Where the Officers Will Hold Forth. Cost of the Building—Other Important Facts.

Now that the time is fast approaching when the officers of the municipality will pick up their books and other belongings and move into their new quarters in the pile on Fort street erected by the city for their accommodation, a brief description of the interior of the building and the location of the different offices may be of interest. The exterior of the City Hall and the "tower" have been written about enough to more than satisfy both the architect and contractors, and there are but few citizens who have not gone out of their way to see that part of the structure, but the interior has until recently been in such a chaotic state that it has been impossible to obtain any clear idea of its general appearance.

After passing through the arched entrance of the building on Fort street, one stands within a spacious vestibule, in each corner of which are two carved oak-covered pillars. The floor of the vestibule is tiled with Georgia marble, and the sides are covered to a height of about six feet, with a wainscoting of the same material, held in place by small nickel-plated screws. This manner of flooring and wainscoting obtains throughout the entire building, with the exception of the floors of all offices, which latter are of white oak. In the main building, after the vestibule is passed, a wide marble-paved hall leads across the building, and other corridors lead from its either end down the wings. To the left of the entrance, on the first floor, City Clerk Teed will take up his quarters in three spacious rooms. He will, moreover, have the use of a three-story vault in the corner of the building, fitted up with spiral iron staircases.

Auditor Lopez will occupy a single room on the right of the entrance, and Tax Collector Len Thompson will use the large, airy and well-lighted office at the southwest corner of the building. Treasurer Johnson has been allotted the office next in order on the south side of the building, and the space between the Tax Collector's office and that of the Treasurer has been divided into two vaults, to be used by those officers. Assessor Fischer's office, on the south side, and next to the Treasurer's, is about the largest room on this floor.

Off of the north corridor open the rooms of Chief Engineer Strohm, the Board of Public Works, and Building Inspector Murchmore, separated from those of the City Clerk by the side entrance to the building. All of the offices on this floor are finished handsomely in white oak, and have been fitted up with wide oaken counters, which divide the portion of the room to which the public is admitted from the private precincts of the officers and their deputies.

A broad oaken staircase, branching near the top, leads to the second story from the main cross-corridor of the first floor. The railings of the staircase are of iron, and were sent to Chicago before being put in place to be treated with the Bowerbarf process, which makes them absolutely rust-proof. The pillars about the central well, through which the stairs ascend, are made of iron, covered with plaster and then encased in carved oak, the whole making an absolutely fire-proof column. About every ten feet in the ceiling of the corridors on each floor occur cross beams also of carved oak, which, though artificial and having no connection with the framework of the structure, are a great addition to the appearance of the walls.

The Council Chamber, in the southwest corner of the second and third floors, is being fitted up with no regard to the expense. The City Fathers will do their work in an apartment whose splendor will be unequalled by any office in the building, and perhaps by anything in the city. The side of the room facing the street is composed almost entirely of glass—colored lights above and large plate glass in the lower portions of the windows. The ceiling and walls will be magnificently frescoed, and a gallery, entered through the third story, will hold visitors who wish to see the Solons at work. President Frankenfield will sit behind an elevated desk, which cost $1,000, and will look across the room at the $1,700 mantel, which is now being placed in position on the south wall. He will also occasionally glance up at a clock, for which a dial has been placed in this mantel, whenever the Council appropriates enough to pay for it. The Councilmen will sit around the President's pedestal, behind desks of their own, arranged after the fashion of the United States Senate. The sides of the chamber are paneled in oak to a height of about ten feet. The room measures 40 by 60 feet.

Leading from the Council Chamber across the front of the building is a private passage or lobby, for the Mayor and Councilmen. Opening off this passage are the committee rooms, occupying the middle front of the floor, and at the north corner are the Mayor's private offices, three in number, and connected with the Council Chamber by the same passage. The City Attorney has two offices on the north side of this floor, connected with the Mayor's offices; and the Superintendent of Streets will occupy two rooms further down the corridor.

Health Officer MacGowan has been allotted an office at the end of the wing, on the same side of the building. All of the south wing not occupied by the Council Chamber has been given up to City Engineer Fred Eaton, who will have three rooms.

All of the space on the third floor will be used by the Library, which occupies the front and north wing, the gallery of the Council Chamber, in the southwest corner, and the three rooms of the Board of Education, in the south wing, which were originally intended for the City Court rooms. The Library is now practically occupied, and Librarian Miss Kelso is now bringing order out of chaos in arranging and classifying the books. The Library rooms are large and well lighted, and the bookcases, tables and periodical racks contain all the latest improvements, and are as convenient as they can be made. Stairs lead up into the tower from the third floor, and the fire alarm bell is now in position at the very top of the shaft.

Those called to the City Hall on business will not have to climb to the height to which they have been led in this article, but will be carried rapidly and easily upward in an elevator car of the latest pattern, which is now being placed in position by the Baker ironworks. The elevator well is on the south side of the building and is placed just at the branch in the corridors. The motive power will be water. At the extreme end of each east and west corridor on every floor are public toilet rooms, finished in marble. Besides these scattered about in different corners on all floors are a number of private toilet rooms, fitted up with more expense, for the use of city officers and Councilmen.

The basement of the building has been divided into a number of apartments, floored with cement, which will be used for fuel and storage purposes, and for the elevator machinery. The basement is reached from the rear by a wide flight of steps between the two wings, down which supplies for the building can be carried. The outside dimensions of the City Hall are: 131 feet front, 120 deep, and 180 feet high to the top of the tower.

The building has been fitted throughout with both gaspipes and fixtures and electric light wires, so that either mode of lighting may be used. Connection has been made with the gas mains for present use.

Contractor Hanlon, to whom the contract for the entire building was given, has a large force of artisans at work on the finishing touches, and is of the opinion that the 15th of this month will see the structure ready for occupancy. At that time nineteen and a half months will have elapsed since ground was first broken for the foundation, on about the 1st of February, 1888. The plans of the building have been slightly modified since that time, but no change of any moment has been made.

The cost of the structure complete, unfurnished, has been $208,800. Some of this has been expended as follows: Marble work and tile roof, $19,000; fireproofing and terra-cotta, $29,000; stone work, $23,000 to $25,000; stained glass (from New York), $800; other glass, $2,300.

Whatever may be said of the exterior appearance of the City Hall, the interior arrangement and furnishing of the offices is certainly very convenient and handsome, and the building is something the city need not be ashamed of. Compared with the present quarters of the municipal officers, scattered here and there over the city, the new City Hall will be a palace in its convenience and beauty.

AS TO MENTAL SHOCK.

Showing How Lifelong a Sudden Impression Can Become.

The effects of mental shock on the mind in causing permanent bad health of mind are easily inflicted in the period of infancy, early life and school life, of which let one illustration suffice. A gentleman who for many years was under my observation as a confirmed mental invalid, a strong man in many respects, but utterly irresolute, and in the end of disordered mind altogether, acquired his mental disease from sudden distrust. He had in his childhood an innate dread of deep water, and he had at the same time a tutor for whom he held the warmest affection, coupled with the most absolute trust and confidence. In a thoughtless and unhappy moment this tutor became possessed with the idea that he would break his pupil's dread of deep water by pitching him into a pool where they were accustomed to bathe together at the deepest part.

There was no actual danger, for the depth was really not great, the pool was calm, the boy could swim a little, and in an instant the tutor, a strong and skillful swimmer, was in the water himself rendering succor and support. The lad was brought to shore safely enough, but the mischief to the mind was inflicted beyond repair. The surface of trust was obliterated, and a fixed distrust in the mind of the youth was set up forever. If a skillful physiologist could have discovered the seat of trust in that youth, and could have destroyed it mechanically, he could not have inflicted a more severe injury nor one more determinately lifelong in its effect.—[Longman's Magazine.

HEED YOUR WORDS.

The Tongue Can Be the Sharpest of All Sharp Weapons.

That the tongue is not steel, yet it cuts. That cheerfulness is the weather of the heart. That sleep is the best stimulant, a nervine safe for all to take. That it is better to learn to say "no" than to be able to learn to read Latin. That cold is not necessarily pure, nor warm air necessarily impure. That a cheerful face is nearly as good for an invalid as healthy weather. That there are men whose friends are more to be pitied than their enemies. That advice is like castor oil, easy enough to give, but hard enough to take. That wealth may bring luxuries, but luxuries do not always bring happiness. That grand temples are built of small stones, and great lives of trifling events. That nature is a rag merchant who works up every shred and rag and end into new creations. That an open mind, an open hand and an open heart would everywhere find an open door. That it is not enough to keep the poor in mind; give them something to keep you in mind. That men often preach from the housetops while the devil is crawling in at the basement below. That life's real heroes and heroines are those who bear their own burdens bravely, and give a helping hand to those around them. That nasty words often rankle in the wound which injury gives, and that soft words assuage it; that forgiveness cures, and forgetfulness takes away the scar.—[London Quiver.

DR. M. HILTON WILLIAMS,

Specialist in all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest,

Including the Eye, Ear and Heart, together with

DISEASES OF FEMALES.

OFFICE:

In the Hollenbeck Block, cor. Spring and Second Sts., Los Angeles, Cal.

Oxygen, Compound Oxygen, Nitrous Oxide, and other inhalations, used in all

DISEASES OF THE LUNGS.

We have introduced the COMPOUND OXYGEN TREATMENT with our systems of practice in the cure of Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption Dyspepsia, Insomnia, Sore Throat, Catarrh Rheumatism and Nervous Prostration, whil only the most improved methods are employe in all female complaints.

As is well known, oxygen is the life-giving principle in the air we breathe and ozone in the air imparts that happy and buoyant feeling after thunderstorms. Persons often require more oxygen than is in the air around them, and cause doors and windows to be opened, tear off collars, loosen the waist, and call for a fan to displace the stifling and bring fresher air or more oxygen. Traveling is done mainly to resorts where the air contains more oxygen, and mountains are ascended to breathe the ozone, which is light and ascends from the earth.

Oxygen and ozone are gases, and must be stored up and used by inhaling them. Our apparatus for storing and having these gases compounded with other suitable agents, is perfect; and, although they are not a cure-all, yet they are undoubtedly the greatest invention made in the last 20 years in any department of medicine, and the results are truly wonderful.

Oxygen acts by purifying the blood, thereby increases the circulation, promotes absorption, improves digestion and assimilation, increases the capability of the lungs, and acts as a gentle stimulant to the nervous system.

The London, England, Lancet, very truthfully says: "The Compound Oxygen treatment is the greatest discovery of the Nineteenth Century." Clergymen, statesmen, lawyers, doctors, and all classes indiscriminately, wherever it is introduced, both use and recommend it.

The testimonials given below are very fair samples as to the time required for effecting cures in these troublesome diseases:

Dr. Williams—DEAR SIR: I am happy to say that the cure you effected in me for a severe case of throat disease has proved to be permanent. For over a year I was troubled with post-nasal catarrh and granulated throat disease, and had done so much for it that I had but little hopes of ever being cured, when I first went to you, but you gave me such positive assurance that you could cure me that I began your treatment, and in four months from that time you discharged me as cured, and I am happy to say the cure was a permanent thing in every particular up to the presen time, which is now over a year. Yours very truly, MRS. LUCY H. TRASK,

809 South Olive street, Los Angeles, Cal.

Dr. M. Hilton Williams—DEAR SIR: I have been contemplating for some time past making a statement of my case and the benefit I have derived from your treatment, remembering how glad I would have been could I have seen something of the kind from a person in the city, to whom I could have referred, when first came to Los Angeles from my home in New York State.

I had been suffering for several years with what various physicians in the East pronounced "chronic ulcerated laryngitis." I spent considerable time at the Clifton Sanitarium, and employed the best medical skill I could find, all without any permanent benefit, and as a last resort our family physician recommended Los Angeles. For a time I improved, and then I began to go backward and all my former symptoms returned.

Through a medial friend I was induced to try your treatment. I became very much discouraged at times, but persevered, as I felt almost desperate and knew of nothing else to turn to. My throat trouble being aggravated by a serious stomach difficulty, made it very obstinate to deal with, but at last, after persevering for a time with your remedies, I consider I am permanently cured, If this will be of any value to you, you are at perfect liberty to use it; also to refer anyone to my mother, my husband or myself. Very truly yours,

FOREIGN NEWS.

The Czar Demurs to Bismarck's Programme.

HE DOESN'T WANT TO BE DUPED.

A Decisive Battle Between Egyptians and Dervishes—The Latter Routed.

Copyright, 1889, by New York Associated Press.]

BERLIN, August 3.—Prince Bismarck's maneuver to bring about a meeting of the three Emperors has been foiled by the sullen reticence of the Czar, who has not deigned to acknowledge the communication of Count Sonouskoff, informing him that Emperor Francis Joseph and Emperor William are favorable to an interview. The language of the semi-official papers of St. Petersburg is studiously designed to divest the visit of any tendency to a restoration of amity. The Czar is described as too well experienced with Bismarck's finesse to allow himself to again be duped. With unshakan firmness he refused to listen to any overtures unless preceded by a recognition of Russia's claims of freedom of action in the Balkan peninsula.

The ominous outlook on the Servo-Bulgarian frontier, where both governments are massing troops, the rising in Crete and the concentration of the Russians around Kars, discourages the hope that the Czar's journey will be anything but a formality which he would avoid if possible. The Foreign Office does not expect him to come to Berlin. He will go direct from Stettin to Pottsdam, where he will stay one night, and then proceed to Copenhagen by way of Kiel.

ITALIAN-AUSTRIAN HOSTILITY.

Among the pressing questions to be discussed by Bismarck and Count Kalnoky, the Austrian Prime Minister, during the stay of Emperor Francis Joseph, is the position of the Pope. It is believed that Monsignor Galimberti has influenced the Austrian Emperor to make an explicit promise to rupture the alliance with Italy, if Italy ventures to occupy the Vatican should the Pope leave Rome.

Signor Crispi, representing the hostile diplomacy of Austria on the Italian policy regarding the Vatican, comes again to confer with Prince Bismarck immediately after the departure of the Austrian Emperor. The temper of the Italian Government toward Austria is displayed in Signor Crispi's response to Prince Bismarck's congratulations on the repression of the Irredentists Committee. It was briefly: "The Irredentists will continue until Austria removes the cause."

GUSH OVER WILLIAM'S VISIT.

Emperor William's sojourn in England is a prominent topic of the press and society. The semi-official newspapers indulge in rhetorical "gush" over English sympathies with the Emperor's unwearied service in the interests of peace, the community of interests existing between the two nations, their great civilizing mission, etc.

The Emin Relief Committee today issued an appeal to the nation for funds to aid the expedition. The appeal won't work. The committee ignored the fact that Dr. Peters' expedition sticks fast, a disorganized mob of Sumalis clamoring for pay and Europeans sick and wanting doctors and medicine.

NAVAL FRAUDS AND OTHER AFFAIRS.

Inquiry into the Kiel navy frauds proves that corrupt practices have been in operation since 1884. Wood and iron sent to Kiel for construction purposes was duly signed for and then secretly sold in England. Chief Constructing Engineer Pannecke is the principal in the scheme. Bremen officials are also involved. The Emperor insists upon the utmost secrecy, and will allow only the sentences which are imposed to be published.

The police are suppressing all the meetings of Socialists convened to hear reports from the delegates to the Paris congress.

The Nationnl Zeitung states that the commercial treaty with Japan goes into operation in February. The Germans will be privileged to penetrate the country and trade everywhere. Special German consular jurisdiction will be renounced.

NICARAGUA CANAL.

The American Institution Contrasted with the French Fiasco.

GREYTOWN, Nicaragua, July 18.—This hitherto dull little town, destined to be the Atlantic port of the Nicaragua canal, is rapidly awakening into new life, and is already blossoming out as the scene of considerable activity. The terrible example set by the Panama fiasco has been a most useful lesson and guide for the American canal company. All the errors into which the French company fell have been avoided by the American canal managers, and it may be said that every dollar squandered by the De Lesseps syndicate has been a dollar saved to the American company.

Sickness, starvation, dissipation and despair marked the route projected by the financiers of Paris, but health, plenty of good food, decency and quiet energy are characteristics of the American engineers and their assistants. Everything possible to do for the health of the employees is being done, and still further efforts are being made in this direction. Portable buildings of all descriptions are being continually shipped from New York to Greytown, and the engineers and mechanics will soon be practically as well housed in Greytown as they would be while at work in any part of the United States.

Recognizing the fact that pure water is the source of good health, the Greytown engineers of the Nicaragua Canal Construction Company have just received orders to survey and lay out the plant for two large water reservoirs. Fifteen miles of steel water piping will convey an abundant supply of perfectly pure water from the Deseado basin to Greytown. Thus, so soon as the jetty and wharves are completed, ocean steamships will be able to "water" at the company's dock. The town of Greytown, otherwise known as San Juan del Norte, will also receive its water supply through the canal company's pipes.

It is reported in Greytown that the canal company is figuring upon a line of three American steamships which may be established between Greytown and New York, and San Francisco and Brito, one of these steamers to be devoted to carrying stores and machinery for the company's use between San Francisco and Brito for the construction of the Pacific harbor of the canal, and the other two to perform a like service for the company between New York and Greytown.

Property about Greytown, Fort Carlos and Brito, all along the line of the canal [illegible] in fact, is rapidly advancing in value. Some contractors from San Francisco and Chicago are announced to be coming this way; several from New York are still figuring here, and it is expected that by January 1st a San Francisco construction party will be "stirring up the mud" at Brito, while New York construction parties will be digging their way toward Lake Nicaragua from the Atlantic side, for it is now said to be the plan of the Nicaragua Canal Company to attack the isthmusian problem from two sides, the Atlantic and Pacific, at once. If this plan is actually decided upon, the Nicaragua canal will be open for navigation in much shorter time than at first contemplated, while inside of say two years and a half, the grand fresh water bosom of Lake Nicaragua, draining a watershed of 800 square miles, will be thrown open to the world, and say in about two years and a half more, or in 1894 or 1895, the whole canal will be ready for business.

As a rendezvous for the American fleet, and as a coaling station and dockyard for American men-of-war, Lake Nicaragua will form an immensely advantageous addition to the war power of the United States. For a fleet there assembled could coal, provision and repair, and swoop east or west, strike north or south, and have a safe refuge should such a safeguard be needed. Thus it will be readily seen that it must be distinctly understood at the start that the Nicaragua canal is an American institution, and that the growth of the strength of our navy keeps pace with the growth of the Nicaragua canal, even without increasing the number of ships. This conclusion is arrived at from the fact that our Atlantic fleet at a few hours' notice could reinforce the Pacific fleet, or vice versa, while even a small squadron anchored in Lake Nicaragua would be extra useful from the fact that it could strike sudden and unexpected blows either in the Atlantic or Pacific at a moment's notice.

DERVISHES ROUTED.

The Fanatic Army Cut to Pieces. Wad-el-Jumi Slain.

CAIRO, August 3.—General Grenfell engaged the Dervishes near Toski today, and completely routed them. Wal-el-Jumi, the Dervish leader, was killed. The Dervish loss was 1,500 killed and wounded; the Egyptian loss was slight.

Besides Wad-el-Jumi, the slain on the Dervish side include twelve Emirs and nearly all the fighting men. Fifty standards were captured by the Egyptians. General Grenfell marched out of Toski at 5 o'clock this morning with a strong reconnoitering force of cavalry and camelry, and advanced close to the Dervish camp. Making a feint of retreating drew the whole of Wad-el-Jumi's force to a point within four miles of Toski. Here the Egyptian infantry were held in readiness for an attack, and a general action was at once begun. The Dervishes made a gallant defence, but were driven from hill to hill. The Egyptian cavalry made a succession of effective charges, in which Wad-el-Jumi and the Emirs were killed. After seven hour's hard fighting, the Dervishes were completely routed. Gunboats are following the scattered remnants of the Dervish force along the river.

Later particulars estimate the Dervish dead roughly at 1,500. The Dervishes fought desperately, throwing themselves upon the advancing columns repeatedly, and refusing quarter. The crisis of the battle was reached when the Dervishes attempted to turn the extreme right of the Egyptians. The steadiness of the troops was admirable. The cavalry here swept through the lines of the enemy, breaking them up. No prisoners are yet reported to have been taken. The cavalry pursued the retreating rebels for miles. General Grenfell ordered the the gunboats to pick up fugitives and wounded.

MAYBRICK TRIAL.

Conflicting Testimony Offered by Witnesses in the Case.

LIVERPOOL, August 3.—In the trial of Mrs. Maybrick, Dr. Stephenson, one of the physicians who attended Maybrick, asserted that one of the patient's symptoms indicated that he was suffering from arsenical poisening.

The nurse testified that when Mrs. Maybrick tried to persuade her husband to take medicine he objected, saying it was poison. No improper food or medicine was given the patient while she was in the house. Mrs. Maybrick appeared tender and considerate of her husband.

A waiter at Flatman's Hotel identified the prisoner as the woman who occupied a bedroom [in the hotel with the man Brierly.

After the introduction of this testimony the prosecution announced its case closed. Sir Charles Russell opened the case for the defense.

A witness named Bateson, who lived with Maybrick in America from 1877 to 1881, Mariner Thompson and a negro who was Maybrick's former servant, all testified that deceased took arsenic habitually. Professor Tidy testified that the symptoms manifested by Maybrick were not typical of arsenical poisoning. The appearance of the organs was consistent with the theory that death resulted from gastroentritis.

Spithead Review Postponed.

LONDON, August 3.—Emperor William was to have reviewed the British fleet in Spithead today, but the review has been postponed until Monday, on account of a heavy storm. A steady rain fell all day, and the haze was so thick that the fleet could not be seen from the shore. Monday will also be a holiday.

A Storm in Ontario.

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 3.—Late last night and this morning a terrific rain storm passed over Ontario, accompanied by thunder and lightning. Many barns were struck and burned. The storm also passed over Quebec. Grain is laid low in the fields, and in many places totally destroyed.

Burke Coming Back.

WINNIPEG, August 3.—The warrant arrived today from Ottawa and Martin Burke was turned over to the Chicago officers this afternoon. The party will leave for Chicago tomorrow.

War Specks.

LONDON, August 3.—A British gunboat has arrived at Crete.

A sailor belonging to an Italian man-of-war has been shot by Mussulmans at Canea, Crete. Turks have attacked and dispersed a body of insurgents near Canea. A number on both sides were killed and wounded.

AMSTERDAM, August 3.—Intelligenc is received of a fight in Acheen, Sumartra, between natives and a force of Dutch troops. Nineteen Dutchmen were killed and twenty-two wounded.

BELGRADE, August 3.—The report that the Government ordered all three of the military classes of Servia to muster Monday is incorrect. It is the intention of the Government to propose the adoption of a new military system in October.

Don't Trifle with the Teeth!

If our teeth were renewed as are our nails, they might not need constant care. But teeth don't repeat themselves after childhood. The proper thing to do is to use SOZODONT, which preserves their health and beauty. It never fails.

WHAT THEY SAY.

Gleanings from the "Herald's" Local Exchange List.

The first case in the Superior Court of Orange county was filed with County Clerk Wickham yesterday, by Victor Montgomery. It was a probate case, entitled Joseph Buck, Jr., et al.—[Santa Ana Blade.

Orange county is once more in the lead. This time it is triplets. George Davies is the happy father. Mr. Davies lives a short distance from the city, and his friends are pouring in their congratulations upon him.—[Santa Ana Tribune.

A Courier reporter saw a stack of corn at the Acme yesterday, eight weeks growth from the seed, measuring thirteen feet four inches and bearing a big ear of corn. It was grown on the Van Leuven ranch at Old San Bernardino.—[San Bernardino Courier.

Grant Griswold has brought down from the narrows of the San Gabriel cañon what is pronounced by experts as a diamond of good size. It is possible our fishermen have been walking over precious stones all these years without knowing it.—[Pasadena Star.

The last assessment of Pomona shows an increase over that of a year ago of about $400,000. That is not a bad showing. Pomona is one of the wide-awake settlements of Southern California, and it gives us much pleasure to note its very apparent prosperity.—Riverside Enterprise.

The contract for building the Old River school house was awarded to Mr. A. Sherwood for the sum of $1,398. The building is to be one story, 31 by 46 feet, and is to be completed by the 29th of August. Mr. Sherwood is favorably known as the contractor for the wood work on the poor farm buildings.—Downey Champion.

The Mt. Wilson Road Company organized its directory yesterday afternoon and elected the following officers: President, Geo. F. Kernaghan; Vice-President, Clarence S. Martin; Secretary, M. E. Wood. The Directors are: J. A. Buchanan, J. W. Hugus, Clarence Martin, Geo. F. Kernaghan and Geo. Greely.—[Pasadena Star.

The Supervisors should open the county road in the Arroyo Seco between Garvanza and Lincoln Park. It understood that the road used in recent years is not the one formerly opened and declared a public highway before Pasadena became a public town. A roadway should be condemned through there at any rate and then those who don't want to pay toll can avoid it by driving on the county road.—[Pasadena Union.

Capt. Friend has received a fine specimen from his Death Valley gold mine through Henry Waddington, who is now out there. The Captain had the specimen assayed and it runs 16 grains of free gold to the pound, or $1,056 per ton. This is a very rich assay and promises a big fortune for some one if it pans out on this basis when the claim is properly opened up.—[Riverside Enterprise.

The work of lowering 770 feet of iron casing into Hulbut's artesian well was successfully completed yesterday. It was a somewhat difficult and delicate job, as the whole weight of the casing (over five tons towards the last) had to be suspended with block and tackle and gradually lowered as the successive joints were added. The machine for boring is one of the best used, and rapid progress will now be made, no doubt, in boring.—[Pasadena Star.

Spadra is fast becoming noted, but the following proves that it is ahead of the balance of the world by considerable. One of Pomona's little three-year-old boys went to Sunday School last Sunday, and when he returned his grandmother took him on her knee and asked him what he heard. He said, among other things, that they told him about Jesus. "Where is Jesus?" asked the lady. The answer came quick as lightning—"Down to Spadra."—Pomona Times.

Captain Garcia has two acres of different varieties of pear trees that are now five years old, and more prolific bearers it would be hard to find even in this fecund land. In other countries pear trees when so young bear rather shyly, but the Captain's are fairly loaded with fruit. The pear is a success in this colony, but it is a question whether it is profitable to devote fine citrus land to the cultivation of any kind of deciduous fruit. As a business proposition we should say not, for the amount of good citrus land is quite limited, and consequently valuable, while the amount of deciduous land is practically unlimited and can in consequence be had much cheaper than citrus land.—[Ontario Observer.

An excellent hot spring has been discovered upon the ranch of O. T. Dyer, near Cold Water cañon at Temescal. Under the direction of S. T. Hall, a hole was blasted through the rocks about four feet deep, and a fourteen-inch pipe put in. The water filled the pipe and has an overflow of about fourteen inches. The water shows a temperature of about 102 degrees Fahrenheit, while a cool stream of water in close proximity records 68 degrees. A small house with a canvas roof has been erected and a bath-tub put in place for the use of the campers at that place. We are informed that at present there are about thirty-five campers near the spring, among them Miss A. J. Diser and several other Riversiders.—[Riverside Press.

At a special meeting of the stockholders in the Anaheim Water Company, held last Saturday, to determine at what price the company would sell out to the new Anaheim irrigation district, it was resolved to place the stock at $15 per share. There are 6,906 shares of assessable stock in the company, which will bring $103,590. To this is added the debt of the company, aggregating $48,500, bringing the sum total up to $152,090. After some discussion it was finally decided to place the amount at $160,000, which will be finally discussed and an agreement decided upon at a meeting to be held a week from Saturday. Some directors are in favor of placing the price of stock at $200,000.—[Anaheim Gazette.

Work is now progressing on the extension of the street railway. The Third street connection is about completed, and it is proposed to continue the work on Nevada avenue until the track reaches Seventeenth street. When the present project is completed, there will be about four miles and a half of street railway in Santa Monica. We undertake to say that no town in the State, with a population of two thousand, can make as good a showing. Mr. W. D. Vawter, the builder of this road, is one of our oldest citizens, but he has the enterprise and push of young manhood. All honor to the old gentleman. We wish our city by the sea had a score or more of his kind. Our progressive town would be far ahead of where it is at present.—[Santa Monica Outlook.

The Flag Corps of Pomona, under the command of Judge Hall, will leave for San Pedro on the first train on the 13th of August. In the regular published programme of the G. A. R. Encampment it will be seen that Wednesday, August 14th, is "Woman's Relief Corps Day," and that the programme of entertainment includes "a drill of the famous Flag Corps of Pomona, consisting of 60 beautiful little girls fully uniformed, and other interesting exercises day and evening, under the management of the Women's Relief Corps." In this connection we are requested by Judge Hall to give notice that all who go down in charge of the little girls—parents or others—will be furnished with free quarters and food at San Pedro during their stay.—[Pomona Times.

Saturday morning Tim Tye, who was arrested with Ben Tyler and Al. Meyers at San Bernardino last week for arson, made a full confession. He said that they burned the saloon at Calico which caused such a serious loss of property in that town. He set fire to the saloon opposite the Santa Fe depot in San Bernardino January 1st, for which Tyler was to give him $250, and finally they burned the Calico saloon in San Bernardino last week. It is believed that Meyers is innocent, as he has acted like a man not guilty of such work. Tyler and Meyers were arraigned Saturday afternoon before Judge Rowell and placed under bonds of $2,500 each, which they failed to secure, and were remanded to jail. Their preliminary examination has been set for next Wednesday morning in Judge Parker's Court.—Riverside Press.

A Court of the Independent Order of Foresters was instituted last night by Deputy Supreme Chief Ranger, W. S. Williams and State Deputy High Chief Ranger, Robert Mills, with twenty charter members, among whom are some of our most representative citizens. The following officers were elected: Chief Ranger, Rev. P. J. Maynard; Vice Chief Ranger, D. F. Jones; Recording Secretary, E. S. Wallace; Financial Secretary, Dr. M. A. Menges; Treasurer, C. F. Mausue; Sr. Woodward, U. S. Claren; Jr. Woodward, Geo. L. Wright; Sr. Beadle, J. H. Maxwell; Jr. Beadle, D. W. MacDonald; Past Chief Ranger, I. G. Marks; Chaplain, J. W. McLellan; Physician, Dr. C. P. Ball. The Court will meet in Pythian Hall at the call of the Chief Ranger. The Court starts out with promising prospects.—[St. Ana Blade.

The following is the certificate of the measurement of the tunnel water made on the 15th inst. by Surveyor Taylor, of Pomona, acting for the citizens' committee:

This is to certify that on the 15th day of July, 1889, between the hours of 4 and 6 p. m., I measured the water flowing out of the tunnel of the Ontario Land Company in San Antonio cañon, by a series of measurements and by two different methods—1st, by use of weir at the mouth of the tunnel; 2d, by obtaining the area of water way and mean velocity of the water in a section of 100 feet of stone ditch leading from the tunnel to the main ditch. Upon a careful calculation of the data obtained by these measurements, I find the entire flow of water of said tunnel at its mouth to be forty-five (45) miner's inches.

JAS. T. TAYLOR.

Pomona, Cal., July 25, 1889.—[Ontario Record.

We learn that the people of Orange have offered the Rochester hotel to parties in Santa Ana for $22,000 for the purpose of establishing a college. While this is a slight reduction in the estimated value of the psoperty, yet it is undoubtedly cheap and the building would make an excellent educational institution. If the liberal minded men of Orange county would take hold of it and establish a non-sectarian college, where facts and science could be taught, and not religious superstition, the school might be made one that would be the glory and pride of Southern California. Such institutions get their reputation from the men who manage and control them. The less politics and religion they have inside of the walls, the better for the country. If more empty churches were turned into school houses the country would enjoy greater blessings, the people have more liberty and rising generations more sense.—[Santa Ana Standard.

Mr. Wm. Shutt, who lives in the eastern portion of the city, has an acre of land set to blackberries. The vines are now two years old, and the crop is being gathered. Mr. Shutt estimates that he will have four tons of berries. He contracted to sell the crop to the Colton cannery early in the season for four cents a pound. If the yield does not fall short of Mr. Shutt's estimate he will get for his acre of berries $320. Mr. Shutt says he has lost just a cent a pound for his berries, for if he had not sold so soon he could have got five cents per pound for the entire crop, which would have brought the figures up to $400; $400 per acre for berries the second year is not bad. The gentleman has also a half acre of strawberries in bearing, from which he has gathered and sold to date $215 worth. The vines give excellent promise of a considerable yield yet before the season closes, and Mr. Shutt confidently thinks he will be able to swell the figures to $250 before the end of the year.—[Pomona Times.

FAVORED BY FORTUNE.

Sacramentans Play Lucky In the Louisiana State Lottery.

Dame Fortune, through the medium of the last drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, showered her favors into the laps of Sacramentans with lavish hand. The unprecedented streak of good luck has been the all-absorbing topic of conversation, and a Bee reporter this morning started out to interview those who had been designated as the lucky ones. The first one encountered was, of course, George H. Lavenson, the Bee's handsome cashier. George was not at all backward in stating that he had been enriched to the extent of $7,500 by the Louisiana State Lottery. "Sam Gerson and I," said Mr. Lavenson, 'bought five coupons, and I kept them in an envelope and did not look at them until a list of the drawing was published in the papers. Then I took the list and saw that No. 61,605 had drawn the capital prize of $600,000. I opened the envelope and the first coupon I took out bore the figures '61,605.' It knocked me silly, and for about three minutes I didn't know whether I was standing on my head or my feet. The coupon drew one-fortieth of the big prize—$15,000. We sent the ticket by Wells Fargo, and in less than two weeks had the money. It came in greenbacks—$4,000 in $500 bills and $11,000 in bills of smaller denominations. You know that, however, as I let you reporters feast your eyes on the money. I have 'squared myself' with the boys, have made some presents, and propose to put the remainder where it will do the most good."

Samuel Gerson, the well-known fruit commission merchant, confirmed Mr. Lavenson's story, and smilingly admitted the receipt of his $7,500.

"Yes, I got away with $2,500—one-fortieth of the third capital prize," said G. H. Stevenson, ticket agent at the Southern Pacific depot. I received my money a few days ago—five $500 bills—through Wells Fargo Express."

Another $2,500 was drawn by a young man of this city, employed in a shipping and commission house, who is equally well known as any of those mentioned above. He got his money through D. O. Mills' Bank, but there are reasons which impel him to most strenuously object to his name being given.—[Sacramento (Cal.) Bee, July 10.

PENSION CLAIMS MADE SPECIAL.

Commissioner of Pensions Tanner has made public a statement of the number of cases made "special" from the date he assumed charge of the Pension Office, March 27th up to July 23rd. It shows that during that period there were made special 958 claims. Of this number the commissioner had 952 drawn from the files and examined to ascertain who were attorneys in the cases. The results show, among other things, that there were 118 cases in which there was no attorney; that George F. Lemon was attorney in ninety-eight cases and William W. Dudley in five. The Commissioner then named eleven other attorneys, who had cases made special in numbers ranging from twenty-six to eight, about an aggregate of 385 cases. The balance of the cases, the Commissioner says, were distributed among various other attorneys, no one of whom is attorney in as many as eight cases. Three hundred and seventeen attorneys are represented altogether.

FOREIGN-BUILT CARS.

The Secretary of the Treasury this afternoon rendered a decision on a question submitted by the Collector of Customs at Detroit, as to the dutiable or non-dutiable character of foreign-built railway cars, coming into the United States from Canada, laden, or for the purpose of being laden, with mails, passengers, etc. The decision says in part that cars engaged in such trade never have been regarded as importations subject to duty, but simply as vehicles of transportation for conducting an established and legalized traffic. This principle has remained in force more than twenty years, and in view of the long settled rule and practice upon the subject, the department does not deem it conformable to public interest to disturb a decision deliberately reached and repeatedly affirmed, and must hold that the question is no longer open to administrative construction, although the practice is not to be permitted to degenerate into license for the free importation of foreign built cars into domestic traffic.

LAND GRABBERS HEADED OFF.

Secretary of the Interior Noble has received a telegram from Gov. Shoup of Idaho setting forth the resolutions passed by the Constitutional Convention, stating that speculators are following the United States irrigation surveying parties and taking up valuable water rights. In reply Secretary Noble quotes the provisions of the law providing for the survey now in progress, which he thinks covers the ground and protects all rights. Among other things this law provides that all lands which may hereafter be designated or selected by such United States surveyors for sites for reservoirs, ditches or canals for irrigation purposes, and all land made susceptible of irrigation by such reservoirs, ditches or canals, are thereafter reserved from sale as the property of the United States, and shall not be subject to entry, settlement or occupation. It is further provided by the law that the President, at any time, in his discretion, may, by proclamation, open any portion or all of the lands reserved by this provision to settlement under the homestead laws. The Secretary points out that it is impossible for speculators to acquire title to a single acre of land while this law is in force.

WET WEATHER.

A Week's Rain in the Vicinity of New York.

NEW YORK, August 3.—Notwithstanding the fact that it has been raining almost steadily since a week ago yesterday, there is still no sign of clearing weather. At 8 o'clock this morning rain fell in torrents for about fifty minutes, and flooded the streets and cellars of this city and Brooklyn. It was accompanied by heavy thunder and lightning. Nearly two inches of water fell.

A dispatch from Taunton, Mass., says the storm visited that section of the country; sewers were washed out, cellars flooded, streets gullied and factories compelled to suspend operations. At 2 o'clock the most severe storm of the season occurred at Nyack. The streets were flooded and travel and business were suspended.

Dispatches from many points in the farming district within a radious of 100 miles of this city, show a general damage to crops by the unusually heavy rains of the past week. The total losses in New York, Connecticut and New Jersey will amount to between $300,000 and $400,000, perhaps more. The hay, potato and small fruit crops suffered heavily.

ELIZABETH, N. J., August 3.—The damage by the storm in Essex county is estimated at $500,000.

THE SUGAR KINGS.

The Spreckels Decide to Duplicate Their Philadelphia Plant.

PHILADELPHIA, August 3. — Claus Spreckels, the great sugar manufacturer, whose mammoth refinery on the Delaware is now one of the landmarks of Philadelphia, has decided to duplicate the plant. Claus Spreckels, Jr., who is associated with his father, has notified the contractor for the construction of the buildings, and George Watson, General Manager for Mr. Spreckels, that the capacity of the refinery would be doubled. The work of erecting additional buildings, which will adjoin those now in course of construction, and placing in them the necessary machinery will begin soon. The producing capacity of the works when completed will be about 4,000,000 pounds of sugar daily. The entire of the plant will cost be between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

THE TRUST BOOMS ITS PAPER.

NEW YORK, August 3.—11 a.m.—At the opening of the Stock Exchange this morning the Sugar Trust was very active, being a feature of the dealings, and on large business rapidly rose from 113 to 114½, but afterward reacted a fraction.

When the market opened yesterday Sugar Trust certificates were selling at 110. When it closed the price had gone up to 112⅝. The story was that the Refiners' Company intended to cancel $7,000,000 of its capital stock. The owners of large blocks are said to have been buying up quantities of stock during the last thirty days with a reduction of capital in view. The steady rise in refined sugars which the trust manipulated during May and June sent great profits into its coffers, and with this fund and with $2,000,000 worth of certificates belonging to the trust and in its treasury, $7,000,000 of the stock may be cancelled without encroaching in the slightest degree upon what are regarded as the profits of the business.

Cincinnati Blue Laws.

CINCINNATI, August 3.—The indications are now that tomorrow will be a phenomenally quiet Sunday in Cincinnati. The Saloon-keepers Association has all along refused to counsel the violation of the Owen law, and its members have been outspoken in the condemnation of the saloon-keepers who held a meeting in Turner Hall last week and resolved to defy the law. The last named took formal action at a meeting held last night, rescinding the resolutions adopted at the former meeting. Judge Ermston today held that a barber shop in a hotel is not a necessity on Sunday, and fined the barber of the Gibson house $2 and costs. This was a test case.

Yellowstone Park Fires.

MOTH HOLE SPRINGS, Wyo., Aug 3.—The reports of the terrible danger and great loss from forest fires in Yellowstone National Park are so much exaggerated as to be almost wholly unfounded. There have been and still are some fires, but the soldiers have worked hard and succesfully to overcome them. The only fires near any roads or buildings have been kept under control, and are not spreading. On the east side of the lake, where there are no roads or buildings, the fire is still burning. There is no danger. Tourists scattered all over the park feel no fears. The hotel people have never been troubled over possible harm.

Britishers Buying Cotton Mills.

FALL RIVER, Mass., August 3.—An evening paper publishes a letter from a committee representing an English syndicate, addressed to the President of every cotton mill in Fall River. It proposes to form a cotton mill trust, and states that foreigners have subscribed more than enough capital to buy the entire manufacturing plant of the country. The Fall River mills alone have a capital exceeding $20,000,000 and an investment of probably $30,000,000.

A Very Sick Governor.

NORTH EASTON, Mass., August 3.—Governor Ames is a very sick man, and the slightest exertion is liable to carry him off. His physicians say he must give up all business and political engagements. They say that if he undertakes to receive President Harrison next week it will be at his imminent peril.

Coke Strikers Weaken.

PITTSBURG, Pa., August 3.—The coke strikers are weakening. Already the strike promises to be a failure. The men at the Yonngstown, Moorwood and the Standard works, numbering 1,000, went back today. The operators say before the middle of next week the works will all be in operation again.

Sullivan Holds a Levee.

LOUISVILLE, August 3.—John L. Sullivan, in charge of the Deputy Sheriff from Mississippi, stopped here this morning and visited Chief Hughes, of the Fire Department. At the Chief's office Sullivan held a levee, about a thousand people calling to see him. At 12:20 he left for New Orleans.

Senator Evarts Crushed.

Mr. Evarts relates with much zest a little story of his adventures with a dignified and ignorant clerk of the State Department. On his way to call on Secretary Blaine the other day, he wished to make some inquiry, and as he was passing through the corridor accosted a young man whom he thought he had seen in the department, saying to him: "I beg your pardon, sir, but are you not a clerk in the State Department?" The young man addressed stopped short, gazed at the great statesman, who was once the head of the department, and whose fame is as broad as the two hemispheres, and in a tone in which disgust was mixed with wounded pride, replied: "No, sir, I am not. I am not a clerk in the State Department. I am an attache of the foreign office." Senator Evarts was so astounded by this display of dignity and Anglomania that he says he actually forgot the inquiry which he had intended making of the young person, and walked on quite crushed.—[Augusta, Ga., Chronicle.

Well Meant.

It is told of a pious, well meaning man here that on one occasion, while offering up a prayer in Sunday school, he referred to the Superintendent in this manner: "And, oh God, bless the Superintendent, who has led such a long, tedious, Christian life."—[Kingston Freeman.

SAMOAN ADVICES.

Malietoa Coming Back from Exile.

PEACE REIGNS IN THE ISLANDS.

The Natives to Elect Their Sovereign—Religious Dissensions Brewing.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

APIA, Samoa, July 20 (per steamer Mariposa to San Francisco).—Political affairs at Samoa remain quiet. The German gunboat Wulf left here June 27th for Joluit, Marshall Islands, for the purpose of bringing back the deposed King, Malietoa, and the three chiefs who were taken there by the Germans two years ago. The Germans state that they are bringing Malietoa back to Samoa of their own free will, and not as the result of the Berlin conference. They also assert that they will do all in their power to restore the condition of affairs that existed here prior to the time Malietoa was deposed, and they announce that they will favor Malietoa as King, and Tamasese as Vice-King.

The naval force at Apia now comprises the German corvette Sophie and the British warship Rapid. The Sophie arrived recently from Zanzibar. She has a number of wounded men on board, who received their injuries during the campaign at Zanzibar. The officers of the Sophie state that the Alexandria will arrive here in about a month, and relieve the Sophie.

Admiral S. A. Kimberly, accompanied by Lieutenant G. A. Merriam, has gone to Tutuila island, seventy-five miles from here, to inspect the harbor and select a site for storing the coal which is expected to arrive there shortly from Philadelphia.

Lieutenant H. O. Rittenhouse and six men are the only survivors of the recent hurricane who still remain at Apia, and it is thought they will go aboard the Adams as soon as she arrives from Honolulu.

The police appointed by Mataafa last June have full charge of the town, the police who held office under the old Tamasese government having been forced to disband. Mataafa has also appointed native judges for municipality and country districts. The natives have not an abundance of food, but it is believed the supply will last until their plantations are again in working order.

The branch of the London Missionary Society in Sydney raised $2,500 for the Samoans on the strength of a private letter from one of their missionaries here, and sent $750 worth of rice and biscuits to Apia, but the chief missionary in Samoa at once wrote to Sydney and asked that no more provisions be sent, as it only tended to pauperize the natives, for as soon as it was known here that provisions had been received, a number of natives went to the missionaries and begged for food, saying they were starving. The missionaries, however, sent them away, stating that they thought the natives were in no great danger of starvation.

Considerable annoyance is expressed here on account of a newspaper argument which has been started in Sidney between Roman Catholics and the London Missionary Society, as to which religious body the natives belonged who saved lives during the hurricane. The Samoans are divided in their religious belief, and it is feared this discussion may tend to increase the bad feeling which already exists among the natives. Some of the chiefs say they fear that religious differences may be carried into the election for King, which will be held on Malietoa's return, and that a split may occur among the adherents of the Malietoa family, of which Mataafa is a member, and that thereby Tamasese will be selected King, in which event the Germans would have as full power as they had two years ago.

Considerable excitement was caused here a month ago by the fact that a number of Samoans left here on the steamer Alameda for San Francisco in charge of an American. Mataafa supposed that the latter was a British subject, and he applied to the British Consul to use his offices in preventing the Samoans from going. The British Consul referred the matter to United States Vice-Consul Blacklock, and Mataafa wrote a letter to the latter, asking him to interfere in the matter. However, the natives were by that time aboard the steamer, and as no boat could be obtained, it was impossible to communicate with them.

Consul Blacklock has not yet completed the distribution of gifts from the American Government, consisting of money, watches, etc.

The departure of the shipwrecked officers and men of the American war vessels, and the consequent loss of the circulation of considerable money, is felt by the merchants in Apia.

A New Piano Deal.

The well known firms of Powell, Haskell & Co. and Day & Hart, have joined forces and incorporated under the name of the Southern California Music Company, with a capital of $50,000, all subscribed.

Having ample capital, and representing many of the leading factories in the United States, including the popular Decker Brothers, A. B. Chase, J. & C. Fischer, and others, and the Chase, Kimball and other organs, bought at prices which are only given to the largest dealers, this company is able to offer inducements to purchasers that have never been given before in Southern California.

The company will pay especial attention to renting pianos and organs—not the old rattle-boxes that have usually been worked off on the innocent renter, but brand new instruments, of reliable makes, at reasonable prices.

Those who desire the advantage of selecting from the largest stock and greatest variety in any one wareroom on the Pacific Coast, will be shown a display of fifty of the finest instruments made, at the warerooms of the company, No. 11 North Spring street, so long known as Day's Music Store.

EXCHANGE REVIEW

NEW YORK, August 3—The stock market was dull, but notwithstanding the lack of disposition to trade, the market presented a strong front, except just at the opening. Throughout the entire session there was a marked lack of offerings, and the selling was almost entirely by traders, while the buying was principally for account of outsiders. The final changes are almost invariably in the direction of higher prices, but the only important change was an advance of 1c. in Sugar Trust.

Government bonds were dull and steady.

Petroleum opened weak at 98⅞c., but became firm after the first sales, and moved up slightly. All interest then died out.

The motors for the Redondo road have been shipped from St. Louis, and may be expected here in a few days, when the road will be put in operation.

There will be a regular meeting of the Federation of Labor Tuesday, August 6th, at 8:30 p. m., at Hibernia Hall. Delegates from all Trades Unions are expected to be present.

R. H. Shoemaker, of San Gabriel, has sold his forty-acre ranch to Capt. A. B. Van Dusen, a wealthy young English gentleman, for $300,000. The orange crop last year paid net $3,000, and there is a quarter of an acre of tomatoes now ready for the market, estimated to have ten tons on it. They sell for $20 a ton.

Criminal Notes.

For keeping eleven cows in his sale-yard within the cow limits, John C. Bell, of 75 South Los Angeles street, was fined $10 by Police Judge Owens yesterday.

William Rains was examined before Circuit Court Commissioner Van Dyke, yesterday, upon a charge of hauling timber from the Government land, and was discharged.

Ah Yu, accused of selling liquors to Indians at San Bernardino, was examined before District Commissioner Owen, yesterday, and was held to answer with bail fixed at $2,500. He was committed.

The examination into the charge of robbery preferred against James Convey by Harry Day came up for hearing before Police Judge Owens yesterday, but on motion of the defendant's attorney was continued until Tuesday next.

In Department 6 of the Superior Court, yesterday, Virgil B. Duval, "the lawyer from Texas," who was convicted by a jury of assault last week, appeared before Judge McKinley for sentence. He was granted a continuance until Monday next at 10 o'clock a. m., at his own request.

Sackett Cornell, late editor of the Orange County Chronicle, was arrested at a late hour last night, upon a bench warrant telegraphed from Santa Ana. The second of the charges of criminal libel preferred against him came up for hearing yesterday, but he did not appear, and the Court ordered his arrest.

In the Township Court yesterday the grand larceny case against James Powelson came up for examination, but was continued by consent until Tuesday next, at 2 p. m. He is accused of stealing $900 worth of jewelry and other property belonging to Clothilde Powelson.

In the Hoffman divorce case, yesterday, Judge McKinley modified his previous order and ruled that the husband should not pay $50 per month alimony to his divorced wife. The order to show cause why the alimony should not be paid was dismissed.

Henry Neimeyer appeared before Justice Lockwood yesterday for trial upon a charge of disturbing the peace, but the case was continued until August 14th, by consent. He is alleged to have used threatening and abusive language to Lisette Hoffman, on Main street, on the 26th day of January last.

While returning from the Boyle Heights celebration about 7 o'clock last night a large number of people were edified by the disgraceful conduct of Mounted Officers Manning and Farmer, who had been detailed for the occasion. Both were so drunk that it was with great difficulty that they retained their seats in the saddle. They will undoubtedly be suspended to-day on the matter being reported to the Chief.

In Justice Lockwood's court yesterday Robert Sampson, the "mac," who was convicted of vagrancy on Friday last, came up for sentence. He made a final attempt to assert his alleged rights by objecting to being sentenced on the ground that the Court had exceeded its jurisdiction in trying the case without a jury. The Court, however, overruled it, and ordered the defendant's imprisonment in the County Jail for ninety days without the option of a fine. After being in jail for a few hours he appealed, through his attorney, to the Superior Court, and was released upon $500 bail, pending its decision.

A. S. West, a foreman in the employ of the Street Superintendent's office, was arrested by officer Bosqui on Ninth street yesterday afternoon on a warrant. He was charged with having disturbed the peace of an Irish teamster named M. D. Flynn by calling him obscene names. He was released upon depositing $25 bail.

John H. Holsworth, a well known contractor, was arrested by Officer Craig at 9 o'clock last night, for fighting with his attorney, on the corner of Market and Spring streets. Both were slightly inebriated, and taken to the station, but the lawyer was released. Holsworth's face was terribly bruised and battered, but he stated that a third party had done it.

WHERE WE SHALL EAT.

Schurtz & Forster's Magnificent Place in Preparation.

Under the Wilson Building, corner of Spring and First streets, a gang of artists of various sorts are busily at work preparing a place where the inner man is to be ministered to as this has never yet been done in Los Angeles. The floor area is immense, and it will all be used to the best advantage. There will be a general hall where seats and tables will be furnished for those who do not seek seclusion, and there will be private rooms, snug and cosy, for those who wish to be alone. Counters, ice chests and all sorts of appurtenances are being made to facilitate the waiting on guests. Gnomes, fairies, elves and all sorts of mythological figures are being carved in wood to support a counter or to adorn a sideboard. There are no less than sixty men at work in this place. When this army is done and the place is thrown open to the public, a vision of comfort and good cheer will dawn on the eyes of the good livers of Los Angeles, such as they do not dream of. This will be about the 21st of September. All this time is required to do the vast amount of work mapped out by the enterprising proprietors of this place, who are determined to make it the most unique in all respects of any resort on this Coast. Mr. Schurtz is present all the time directing the men, forty carpenters and half a score of the best wood-carvers in California, with others who are engaged in the work. Mr. Schurtz has had a life-time of experience in this business, and it is his intention to have every detail perfect. Besides, he wishes to make the best use of every one of the 10,000 feet area on the floor. He has divided this room into two main compartments, connected by a number of handsome arches most artistically decorated in the carved woods. The ceilings will be handsomely frescoed, and heavy French plate-glass mirrors will be interspersed at intervals along the walls.

The work is all done by Los Angeles business men. The wood work which is in the highest style of the art, is done by Mr. Jake Fort; the other building work is done by Mr. Fritz Guenther; all the furniture is from the warerooms of the Los Angeles Furniture Company; the plumbing contract is let to Mr. S. M. Perry; Mr. McLean will do the frescoing; Eckstrom & Strasburg furnish the interior decorations, and the firm of Roth & Son will supply the silverware. All these departments will be completed without regard to cost, and in the most elegant style known to modern arts and trades.

The reporter who looked through the place and took note of all these plans, said to Mr. Schurtz: "This is all very well, but will there be anything fit to eat and drink here?" The answer was: "We do not propose to spend so large a sum of money for no good end. The carving in this place will cost us $6,000. All the other departments will be as costly, some of them much more so. Now when the kitchen is got up and furnished, we will see that there is a cook worthy of his surroundings. He will be an expert in the culinary art. He will be of the kind who hanged himself when he saw the King of France put a few grains of salt in the soup.

"As for the imbibers of good things who are to come here, we have been negotiating with the Anheuser-Bush Company, of St. Louis, to make us a 'special brew' for the sole use of the place. There will be nothing that people who know how to live may desire to eat or drink that they will not find here, and it will be prepared and served in the very best style."

HELPING THE SCALPERS.

A Young Man Caught Copying a Railroad Dispatch.

Shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a slight ripple of excitement was caused at the Wolfskill depot of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, by the arrest of a youth named P. J. Dodge, under somewhat suspicious circumstances. He was caught in the act of copying a private circular from Assistant Superintendent Muir to the conductors employed by the company, warning them to take up scalper's tickets. To obtain access to this document he had, in the absence of Mr. Muir, entered his office, but the company's detective, Will Smith, noticed him acting in a suspicious manner, and, watching him closely, pounced upon him while he was engaged in copying the contents of the circular. A telephone message was responded to by Chief of Police Glass in person, and the youth was taken up to the Police Station.

Instead of being locked up, however, he was taken into the Chief's private office and after about an hour's interview with that gentleman, released with a warning. He stated that he was employed by the Santa Fe Railroad Company as a night inspector of cars; but it is believed that he is paid by a certain firm of scalpers to keep them "posted" as to the inside affairs at the railroad headquarters. This supposition is based upon the fact that he was copying a private circular referring to them, and in all probability is a correct one.

USEFUL INFORMATION.

Tilbury Fox, M. D., the eminent medical writer, in his work "Skin Diseases," thus accounts for the pimples so common to the face and neck. Eating too rich or too greasy food, or too hearty eating while the excretory organs are sluggish, causes in most people indigestion or a dyspepsial condition, which causes the blood to move sluggishly, which in turn enfeebles the pores. The result is, that the exuding secretions block in the pores, which inflame, each distinct inflammation being a pimple. Dr. Fox therefore does not prescribe "blood purifiers" so called, but a "dyspepsia cure" to be taken, to use his own words "till the dyspepsial symptoms have disappeared." The old idea was, that face eruptions were caused by a "humor in the blood," for which they treated the blood, giving the mineral, potash. Hence the reason why the older sarsaparillas contain potash. Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla follows the modern ideas of Dr. Fox, and aims with gentle vegetable alteratives at the stomach and digestive organs. The reason is apparent why it cures dyspepsia and indigestion, and the pimples and skin eruptions which result therefrom, and why sarsaparillas that use minerals fail.
